Major Developments In Credit Expansion Expected

WOODIN AND ROOSEVELT CONFERRING

Plans Probably to Embrace Proposals for Community Aid to Many Banks

HUGE RAILROAD LOAN

No Plans Being Made for Radical Monetary Inflation Program, Said

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today carried forward his plans for widening his already gigantic credit expansion program. Indications pointed to major developments before the week is out.

What these developments will be no one in authority was prepared to say although it was felt in well-informed quarters that they would be in connection with the administration's effort to bolster commodity prices.

Mr. Roosevelt was contemplating a loan from the public works funds to enable railroads to buy not only 700,000 tons of new steel rails but also other needed equipment. The loan, it was believed, would depend on the steel companies reducing the price of rails to a figure below $40 a ton, in line with White House suggestions made several days ago.

Such an advance of funds which would total, it was estimated in the neighborhood of $20,000,000, would be in the nature of extending the federal credit expansion program to the nation's heavy industries in an attempt to stimulate trade and increase buying power. At the same time, friends of Mr. Roosevelt were emphatic in dismissing repeated stories of an imminent and radical monetary inflation program as just so much talk.

Advisers said Mr. Roosevelt was working with Secretary of the Treasury Woodin on a program to release as soon as possible at least some of the many millions in frozen assets tied up in solvent, but closed banks.

The steps to be taken have not yet been formulated although it was admitted that they probably would embrace proposals for community aid to banks, coupled with the pledge of assistance, where necessary, from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

International matters also occupied the attention of the president on his final 1933 visit to the summer White House. It was understood he was keeping a close watch on the Cuban political situation through state department channels.

ALTITUDE RECORD CLAIMED BY PILOT

PARIS, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Gustave Le Moine, civilian pilot, claimed a new airplane altitude record today with a flight of 45,264 feet (13,860 metres) over Villacoublay airfield.

The existing record of 43,976 feet was made by Capt. Cyril Unwin, British World War ace, September 16, 1932.

The record for balloons made by Prof. Auguste Piccard in his stratosphere flight is 10 miles 117 yards (53,153 feet or 16,201 metres).

Le Moine flew in a 300 horsepower Potez plane, equipped with a supercharger. He was up half an hour, using an oxygen tank to breathe.

BANDITS SEIZE $100,000 FROM POSTAL DEPOT

Three Desperadoes Get Away With Three Mail Bags in South Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Three bandits seized three mail pouches containing from $60,000 to $100,000 from the postal station at South station, terminal of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, early today. They escaped in a car driven by a fourth man.

One of the pouches, a so-called coin pouch, was said to have contained $50,000 being sent from the First National bank of Boston to small banks in the Cape Cod area.

The two other pouches were said to have held payrolls being sent from Boston banks to firms in New Port, R. I., and Taunton.

John Higgins of Dedham was said to have been the only clerk on duty at the postal station when the bandits entered.

The trio entered the baggage room at South station and from that stole into the adjoining postal station.

Before Higgins was aware of their presence each had seized a pouch.

They ran to the loading platform bordering on Atlantic avenue, jumped seven feet from the platform to the street, and got into the parked automobile. The driver of the car sounded the horn as they emerged from the station to signal his exact position.

FORMER SOLON HURT IN CRASH OF PLANE

VENTURA, Calif., Sept. 28.—(UP)—Dan Emmett, former "flying assemblyman," and three other persons narrowly escaped death early today when Emmett's airplane crashed to the ground after raking a power wire three miles east of Piru.

Emmett suffered fractures of both legs and Ernest Tallman, passenger, was knocked unconscious. The extent of Tallman's injuries was not immediately learned.

Mrs. Emmett and the fourth passenger, Charles Wright, were unhurt.

FORMER U. S. SOLON DIES IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Former Representative James W. Collier, Democrat, Mississippi, died here today.

Collier, a member of the tariff commission, was stricken with a heart attack at his rooms in the George Washington Inn.

Collier was chairman of the House Ways and Means committee during the 72nd congress. Due to a dispute over the method of electing representatives in Mississippi last fall, he was not re-elected.

Collier was born in Vicksburg, Miss., 61 years ago today.

MRS. TALMADGE IS REPORTED SINKING

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Mrs. Margaret (Peg) Talmadge, mother of the sister-screen team of Norma, Constance and Natalie, was reported in a critical condition in Hollywood hospital today, suffering from pneumonia. Although she rested easily last night, her condition failed to improve, attaches said.

Mrs. Talmadge was stricken with influenza last week at her Santa Monica beach home. Her daughters are at her bedside.

This Station Certainly Is Well Named

GARY, Ind., Sept. 28.—(INS)—Five glib-tongued broadcasters of Station WIND today were preparing a full retraction of last night's thrilling but false broadcast of a fight to death between convicts who escaped the Indiana state prison at Michigan City and authorities.

Came the reports from the man behind the microphone. "Here we are, folks, right on the scene of a gigantic man hunt. The troops are tramping through the field on the trail of the convicts. Listen closely, folks, listen to that deadly patter of lead."

Then sounds of machine gun fire, the barking of rifles and pistols, groans and eerie police sirens. It was a great broadcast, but strictly a broadcast.

SOCIALISTS IN AUSTRIA DEALT BLOW OF DEATH

Suppression of Political Parties by Government May Bring Strike

VIENNA, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Suppression of political parties—a move which Socialists say will result in a general strike and perhaps civil war—was regarded as imminent today.

The way was paved for general political suppression when the strong Fascist Heimwehr organization of Prince Starheimberg was dissolved as a political force and its members joined Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss' "Patriotic Front" party in a body.

A communique announced the dissolution of the Heimwehr, or Iron Guard, in the "Patriotic Front," added:

"This makes the further existence of other parties unnecessary. Anticipating suppression, Socialist leaders called newspaper men to a conference last night and announced:

"A general strike, and probably civil war, will result if the government dissolves the Socialist organization, outlaws the trades unions and proclaims a Fascist constitution.

"We shall not take such a move lying down, as did German soldiers under Nazi rule."

Socialist deputies in the Morigund parliament in a previous statement denounced the government and the Heimwehr, and said Socialists were ready to defend their rights.

Prince Starheimberg, Heimwehr leader, in a speech last night at a patriotic pro-Fascist meeting, said that America's repeal rejuvenation would date from the day the Socialists were enrolled from

ESCAPED PRISONERS STILL ELUDE POLICE

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 28.—(UP)—New clues from an ex-convict today sent possemen across farm lands and woods in renewed search for ten prisoners who tricked and eluded their way out of the Indiana state prison.

The ex-convict, whose name was guarded carefully because of reprisal, conferred with Captain Mathew Leach of the Indiana state police and Sheriff Neil Fry of Porter county. He had given them information regarding a hideaway of the escaped men who fled the prison Tuesday.

Acting on the convict's tip, some state policemen located a lonely shack, northwest of Chesterton, where two of the escaped convicts were believed hiding. Poses expected to descend on the building, armed with tear gas bombs and machine guns. The gas was imported for use of the state police.

NOT GUILTY IS PLEA IN GOLD HOARDING CASE

Release New York Attorney Under $1000 Bail; Argue Case Oct. 5

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Frederick B. Campbell, first United States citizen to make a court test of federal laws against gold hoarding, pleaded not guilty today to an indictment charging him with failure to report $200,000 worth of gold bars nominally in his own possession.

He was held on $1000 bail and given permission to change his plea to a demurrer against the indictment. The demurrer will be argued next Thursday, and thus the government will come to immediate grips with opponents of the statute.

Judge T. Blake Kennedy of Wyoming, a visiting jurist, sat in today's preliminary hearing. He was told both by the federal attorneys and counsel for Campbell that a quick decision was vital to the interests of the nation.

"The government," said U. S. Attorney George Z. Medalle, who fought the recent income tax case against Charles E. Mitchell, "is prepared to argue the demurrer the day it is filed."

"Both Campbell and I know all the law applicable to this case. Campbell has filed a civil action against the Chase National bank to prevent them from turning over the gold bars to the Federal Reserve. He and I have examined the same statutes in preparing for both the civil and the criminal suits."

"It is important to the country at large to have an immediate settlement."

"It is also important," said E. E. Baldwin, attorney of record for Campbell, "that this defendant be not railroaded. I realize the interest of the government in the case, but that interest is not so great as the interest and the rights of the defendant."

Baldwin described Campbell as a "reputable citizen and a respected member of the bar."

"There is no moral turpitude involved," he added.

MORMON LEADER IS CALLED BY DEATH

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Brigham H. Roberts, 76, a prominent figure in the fight against religious prejudice in the 90s and one of the outstanding Latter Day Saint (Mormon) leaders, died here last night. Death was due to complications caused by diabetes.

President of the First Council of 70 of the church, Roberts was widely known as a public speaker, writer and liberal.

Born in England, March 13, 1857, Roberts was brought to Utah by his parents, Mormon converts, when only nine years old and spent his life here except for the numerous occasions when he went to foreign fields on missionary duty.

FUGITIVE TO FIGHT RETURN TO PRISON

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Counsel for Ben M. Jones, local motion picture projectionist, mapped a determined fight today to prevent his extradition to South Carolina where he is wanted as a long-sought murder fugitive.

Attorney William Bronsten said he is circulating petitions among his client's former theater colleagues, calling upon Governor James Rolph, Jr., to refuse to honor requisition papers.

Jones, who had been living quietly here for the past 10 years, was arrested Tuesday. He readily admitted he was C. D. Cooper who escaped from a South Carolina prison camp in 1925 while serving a sentence for alleged murder. He declared he was innocent of the charge.

Employment Rise Cause For Buying

Issues Hard Hit Yesterday Are First to Recover in Trading Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Stocks advanced today after a decline of 1 to 5 points yesterday.

Leaders, including U. S. Steel were making new highs for the day as the close approached. Home-stake Mining which lost 24 points yesterday, made up all of that and more too. Other mining issues were strong. Wet stocks recovered, and a firm tone was noted in the oils, rails, utilities, chemicals and special issues.

The grain market reversed its trend of yesterday. Wheat closed more than a cent a bushel down and other grains made corresponding declines. Yesterday while the stock market was declining the grain market rallied. It is rumored that the present holders of grain are anticipating recovery on purely statistical grounds, the inflation traders having liquidated their holdings.

The dollar was firm most of the day although movements were narrow. Cotton was little changed in quiet trading.

The stock market opened irregularly higher, and later firmed up. Yesterday's decline failed to bring out any nervousness selling and that factor was partly responsible for the recovery.

News of the day was featured by report of a sharp rise in employment during August, but that was offset by further labor troubles in many lines. The Street was still uncertain as to the dollar's future and hopes were held for some definite announcement from Hyde Park despite denials there would be one immediately.

Some of the issues hardest hit yesterday were among the first to recover today. Allied Chemical, National Distillers, American Commercial Alcohol, American Smelting, Chrysler, Dome Mines, DuPont, Commercial Solvents, Sears Roebuck and Johns-Manville gained 1 to more than 3 points.

U. S. Smelting was bid up more than 4 points, most of which was retained. Copper stocks were better and the gold mining group rose despite a decline in the price of gold in London and in the treasury quote for newly mined gold.

TWO RELEASED ON ORDERS OF ROLPH

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 28.—(UP)—On recommendation of the state supreme court Governor Rolph today had extended executive clemency to two two-time losers, one of them a woman.

Mrs. Mary Agnes McGrew, convicted of grand theft in San Francisco, June 4, 1931, was ordered released from San Quentin prison when her sentence was commuted to time served.

Charles McDevitt also had his sentence commuted to time served. He was originally sentenced from Contra Costa county on a burglary charge in 1929. Later he was released on parole, then sent to Folsom prison as a parole violator and later released on parole for the second time.

THREE KILLED IN BLAST

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Three men were killed and a fourth was critically injured in an explosion and fire which razed the $250,000 Taxman refinery here early today.

Charred bodies, dragged from where the men had been trapped in the cracking plant, were believed those of Bob Finley, chief mechanic, and Ralph Spettel and Clyde Holland, inspectors.

Fred Arbuckle, chief operator, was not expected to live. His clothing was ignited by spraying gasoline as he stood outside the plant. Clyde Griffin, assistant operator, and C. B. Ward, electrician were burned seriously.

The explosion occurred in a cracking plant tower.

POLICEMAN CONVICTED FOR ASSAULT ON NOTED BANDIT

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Harry Lang, detective sergeant convicted by a criminal court jury of assault with a deadly weapon on Frank Nitti, "the enforcer" of the Capone gang, today faced a possible jail sentence of one year and $1000 fine.

Lang listened to the verdict quietly and commented "that ain't so bad." His attorney, however, moved for a new trial.

The penalty, which may range from a day to a year in jail or a fine of $25 to $1000, or both, will be fixed by the judge October 17 if the motion for a new trial is overruled.

Nitti was shot during a police raid on a hoodlum "hang-out" in a downtown skyscraper last December.

A relative of Alphonse Capone, Nitti was shot three times and Lang was shot once, in the arm. Fellow-officers testified Lang shot Nitti while the latter was being held with his arms behind his back, and then shot himself so he could plead self-defense.

The trial, one of the most unusual in Chicago criminal history, found the state's attorney seeking to send a policeman to prison for shooting a gangster.

The detective testified in his own defense yesterday he shot the former Capone gang "enforcer" when he saw him and Police Sergeant Chris Callahan struggling, and believed the policeman's life was in danger.

Testimony at the trial revealed the late Mayor Anton J. Cermak believed a New York gangster had been imported by the Capone syndicate to assassinate him.

Cermak ordered a bullet-proof vest and had Lang detailed as his personal bodyguard. It was at the mayor's request that he went to the gangster hangout to arrest Louis Campagna, known as "Little New York," Lang testified.

KELLY ADMITS HE TOOK PART IN KIDNAPING

Federal Authorities Plan to Move Desperado and His Wife Secretly

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 28.—(UP)—Authorities made arrangements today to secretly transport George (Machine-Gun) Kelly, kidnaper of Charles F. Urschel, millionaire oilman, and his wife to Oklahoma City. W. A. Rorer, department of justice agent gave the United States details of the unprecedented man hunt after weeks of fruitless trailing resulted in their capture.

Kelly and his wife were given "work-outs" by department of justice agents last night. After three hours of questioning by agents working in relays, Kelly admitted orally that he was one of the Urschel kidnapers.

Both he and his wife, Katherine, agreed to go back to Oklahoma City where both are under indictment for the kidnaping and where the trial of 12 others for the same crime is nearing completion.

Arrangements for their return were a carefully guarded secret because agents feared that members of Kelly's gang might attempt their delivery.

Rorer said that department of justice agents were close on Kelly's trail soon after Urschel was released. They first located the trail on the Coleman farm at Coleman, Texas, where Kelly's share of the ransom was found yesterday.

BEGIN ARGUMENTS IN URSCHEL CASE

JESSE JAMES HELD IN HOSPITAL WARD

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—(UP)—William John James, aged eccentric Missourian who insists he is the "real" Jesse James, notorious outlaw, was confined in a psychiatric ward today for observation.

His commitment was ordered by Superior Judge Robert W. Kenny, acting on an insanity complaint filed by Mrs. Stella F. James, widow of Jesse James, son of the pioneer bandit leader.

GROGERS' CODE PROVIDES FOR 48 HOUR WEEK

Hearings Are Set for Oct. 5; Minimum Wage Scale Also Is Provided

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(UP)—A code for groceries, only important retail stores not included in the master retail and drug codes, came before the NRA today containing a provision that a majority of groceries in any trade area could establish uniform store hours binding upon all grocers in the area.

The code also stipulated that not more than one out of five grocery employees could be classified to exempt them from maximum hour limitations.

A hearing on the code was set for October 5. In the meantime, the rate of price control sections of the master codes, fixing cost plus 10 per cent as the general price rule, was scheduled to be determined by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, due back at his desk from a hospital where he underwent a minor operation.

The retail grocery code provided a maximum 48-hour work week of not more than six days a week or more than 10 hours any day. The section on uniform store hours provided that they should not be established at less than 43 hours or more than 78 hours. However, stores operating less than 63 hours last June 1 could continue, but not reduce the old hours.

Minimum wage provisions were for $15 a week in cities of more than 500,000; $14 in cities 100,000 to 500,000; $13 in cities 25,000 to 100,000; $10 to $11 in cities 2500 to 25,000; and $10 a week in villages less than 2500. It provided a $1 differential for the South.

The wholesalers code provided a 44-hour work week and minimum wages.

REPORT ARRESTS IN YEAR OLD ROBBERY

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 28.—(UP)—Mystery surrounded the investigation into the $234,000 Sacramento postoffice robbery nearly a year ago as officers today refused to comment on the case other than to assert "we've got the right men."

Willie Barry, former Folsom convict, was reported under arrest, but federal officers refused to reveal where he was being held. A check of Sacramento jails failed to reveal the suspect's whereabouts.

Frank McKee, held in Salt Lake City, and Steve Christol in San Francisco, are the other suspects in the robbery.

As officers continued their hunt for other men suspected of being connected with the trio, they denied that Barry had made a confession. It is understood that at least four other men are being sought, at least for questioning.

Auto Manufacturer to Keep Plant Shut Up Until Production Is Better

1200 MEN WALK OUT

Ford Reported Today to Be Returning Quietly to Old Forty-Hour Week

EDGEWATER, N. J., Sept. 28.—(UP)—About 1200 strikers from the Ford plant at Chester, Pa., gathered at the gates of the Ford factories here today in an attempt to persuade 1000 employees to walk out.

The Pennsylvania strikers arrived during the night in small groups and were ready to exhort the workers as they went to their jobs.

Factory officials reported none of the men had been persuaded to quit, but the strikers were still working for recruits.

FORD PUTS MEN BACK ON FORTY HOUR WEEK (Copyright, 1933, by the United Press)

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Henry Ford is quietly putting his nationwide industrial empire back on a five-day 40 hour week so his employees can make a living wage, the United Press learned today.

The Dearborn industrialist had ordered a 32-hour week for a six-week period, intending to go back to the 40-hour week later and thus average 32 hours weekly to conform with the automobile code, which he has refused to sign.

He discovered, however, that thousands of workers were able to earn only $16 a week under the 32-hour schedule, despite recent pay increases.

Ford does not believe any of his employees should have to live on $16 a week and therefore he ordered the managers of all his factories to return to the 40-hour week schedule.

The manufacturer intends to conform to the automobile code by closing his factories two or three days every four months, it was learned. He is still determined to abide by the terms of the code.

Ford has been following closely the situation at Chester, Pa., where 200 workers on the final assembly line walked out Tuesday.

EXPECTANT MOTHER SHOT BY HUSBAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Mrs. Clara W. Kier, 24, an expectant mother, was near death at a hospital today as police hunted her husband, Fred W. Kier, 24, charging he shot her in the chest last night.

The woman gasped her story to hospital attendants. She said her husband came home intoxicated and demanded more money with which to buy liquor. She refused. He then demanded their bank book, which shows a balance of $75. "I couldn't give it to him," she said, "he shot me."

"I couldn't give him the money," she said, "I was saving it for the baby. It was saving it for such a little while . . ."

The young laborer fled from the home, the gun in his hand. Mrs. Kier staggered to the hallway and collapsed in the arms of another tenant, Mrs. Earl R. Evans.

LAMSON NOT NAMED IN JURY'S VERDICT

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 28.—(UP)—A coroner's jury today failed to name David A. Lamson as the slayer of his wife, Allene.

The long-delayed inquest, held nearly two weeks after Lamson was convicted of the murder and two days after he was sentenced to be hanged, was completed swiftly.

Mrs. Lamson, the jury decided, met death last Memorial Day from a "violent force applied to the back of the head and fracturing the skull."

men need possible life imprisonment for a crime due to become historic.

Defense testimony closed abruptly when Bailey and Bates, who with George (Machine Gun) Kelly are the accused leaders in the $200,000 ransom plot, chose to gamble on silence. They offered no defense.

Arguments started at 9:30 a.m. on the ninth day of the sensational trial in the fortified federal building.

The government was allotted four hours to secure convictions in the first test of the new Lindbergh kidnaping law. The combined defense was given five hours to plead its case.

Over the whole drama, still hung the menace of reprisals or rescue attempts from outlaws yet un-captured.

Federal agents, machine gun armed, guarded prisoners and prosecutors alike. Extreme precautions were taken, both here and in Memphis where Kelly and his red-haired wife, Katherine, were confined. Federal guards accompanied Charles F. Urschel, the kidnap victim in the most lucrative extortion on record, and his family.

Fast-breaking developments rendered the outcome uncertain. As the case went to the jury of 12 men, four other persons were in government custody in connection with the crime. Investigators ferreted out further ramifications of the plot and hinted that other arrests impended.

In addition to the Kellys in Memphis, Case Coleman and Will Caser, Texas farmers, were held in that state. Their arrest followed discovery of $73,250 of the ransom money buried in Coleman's cotton patch.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 28.—(To the Editor of The Register.) While some of these radio commissions are telling how many kilowatts and how many detours stations can have why don't they limit them to how many rumors they can broadcast without any single iota of facts. I am getting tired of being used as the object of some catastrophe, and I suppose lots of others have the same thing happen to 'em all over the country. Let 'em lose some lawsuits and they will start investigating before they start broadcasting.

Well, I see where the New York Stock Exchange bluffed Tammany out of the tax. They are going to put it on the street-car and subway travelers.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Farewell Party Held In La Habra

Bridge was played during the evening and prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. J. Tugwell of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Vochall of Whittier and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Walker of La Habra.

Others present were Dr. and Mrs. Fred Erwin of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. G. Erwin and Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Whittier and Mr. and Mrs. Gartner of Taft.

FORD WORKERS URGING STRIKE BE EXTENDED

demanding five days pay—approximately $28—for four days' work. The manufacturer already is paying a wage rate much higher than the code minimum. He did not meet the demand. Instead, he ordered the plant closed and its production quota transferred to other eastern factories.

Sources close to Ford said he believed the workers who led the Chester walkout learned of the return to the 40-hour week schedule and feared they would be among workers dismissed under the longer hours.

Ford does not need the Chester plant under his present production schedule, it was said here, and probably will keep the Pennsylvania factory closed until such a time as a production pickup warrants the resumption of operations.

The Chester walkout was a non-union affair and Ford does not fear the strike fever will spread to other plants. Strikers from Chester gathered in front of the Ford plant at Edgewater, N. J., today in an attempt to persuade the Edgewater workers to join them in a general walkout. Ford officials at Edgewater notified executives here that the Edgewater workers have assured them they will not leave their jobs.

MANY PRESENT AT ROLL CALL DINNER

The annual roll call dinner held at the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church, South, last night was a very successful affair, according to church officials, who reported an attendance of 250.

During the program in which plans for the coming year were outlined and accomplishments of the past year were reviewed, talks were made as follows: "Church Loyalty," L. A. West; "Our Goals," T. P. Hunter; "Application of Business Principles to the Church," S. W. Todd; "Mobilizing Our Forces," the Rev. C. M. Aker, pastor. Dr. Aker also gave a stereoscopic talk on the work of the past year.

Musical portions of the program were given by Claude Drake, violinist; E. H. Layton and Glen Layton, steel guitars.

CALAVO DRIVE FOR MEMBERS ENDS SATURDAY

Orange county's independent avocado growers are rapidly forsaking their ranks for those of the industry's co-operative marketing program of next season, according to the rapidly increasing last minute applications and sign-ups of leading independent growers received by the Calavo Growers' Exchange, officers reported today. All producing growers' applications must be mailed by Saturday midnight if growers are to participate in the 1933-34 program. Earl C. Dutton, Calavo field manager, said today.

Among the largest Orange County independents applying in just the last few days, in addition to the scores from other districts, are Charles A. Robinson, F. E. Willes with 700 trees, H. Chadwick's old grove at Hewes Ranch, all in or near Orange; George G. Chambers, J. C. Spillane, Orange County Park Acres, Inc., with over 1000 trees, all at Orange Park Acres near Orange; J. C. Ralls, H. & M. Bennett and R. C. Ross of Santa Ana, with a 1054-tree producing grove, all at La Habra; L. A. Bortz, Olive; A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana; A. H. M. Lawrence, R. R. Caldwell, Tustin; John F. Vogel, Anaheim; P. H. Catherwood, with 1550 trees at Fullerton, and Victor A. Elmers of Fullerton with 1885 trees near Yorba Linda.

Most independents now joining the co-operative program for next season are old producers and are among the largest of the outstanding non-members. Dutton declared, which will greatly assist the co-operative to stabilize markets next season, due to this far greater production control it will have then.

The "new deal" of the Calavo Growers' Exchange is largely responsible for the big sign-up now going on, Dutton believes. The "new deal" program will slash 1934 season costs to 50 per cent of the present retain, and will find member-growers deriving countless new advantages of marketing co-operatively next season.

Accidental Death Verdict Given By Beach Crash Jury

Accidental death from drowning caused by running off a bridge was the verdict this morning of a coroner's jury at the inquest in Huntington Beach over the bodies of the four victims of an automobile wreck Tuesday morning on the Anaheim Bay bridge in Seal Beach.

Those who met their death in the accident were Paul Beckman, 28, George Steele, 28, Mrs. B. G. Boggs, 24, and Mrs. E. H. Grill, 20, all of Long Beach. Following the inquest, the bodies of the two women were shipped to Seattle for funeral service while the men will be taken to Long Beach for final rites.

The light roadster in which the two couples were riding careened off the bridge at a high rate of speed and dropped into 20 feet of water. The victims were drowned before the car could be hauled to the surface.

Deputy Coroner Bert Castiel was in charge of the inquest, which was held in the Dixon mortuary, where the bodies were taken after the accident.

FRIDAY LAST DAY FOR TAX RETURNS

Tomorrow is the last day for corporations to file capital stock returns and pay such tax without penalty, it was announced today by A. B. Pilch, deputy collector of internal revenue with offices in the post office building, following receipt of word from John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue.

Time for filing capital stock returns was extended from July 31 to September 29, making the 60 days allowable for extensions by law. Every corporation in existence must file a capital stock return, whether operating or not. The rate of tax is one dollar per thousand of the declared value of the capital stock.

Penalty for failure to file by September 29 is 25 per cent of the delinquent tax.

the city hall and replaced by a government commission.

Vienna was a social municipal government.

Though Dollfuss has declined so far to consent to a thorough Fascist dictatorship, his idea for a practical dictatorship along modified Fascist lines have been stated.

Last week, when he found he could not reconcile the views of Prince Starhemberg and Max Winkler, leader of the agricultural landowners, he formed a new cabinet, eliminating Winkler.

His reward came today with the adherence of the Heimwehr. Dollfuss had behind him for the time the strongest men in Austria—Prince Starhemberg, Maj. Emil Fey, his new vice chancellor, who will aid him in attending to the co-ordination of military and police forces, of which Dollfuss has taken personal charge, and Gen. Karl Vaugin, former war minister and new director general of federal railways. Vaugin was appointed because a strong hand was needed to direct the railways should a general strike materialize.

NEW CHAIRMAN FOR BEACH OIL BOARD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 28.—Neal Anderson, chairman of the old oil field conservation board, has been named chairman of the town lot board, following the action of the state board of oil conservation in refusing to accept Bob Garrison, well known geologist and engineer, as town lot board head.

Art Anderson of the Holly Oil company, then resigned as vice president of the town lot board and Garrison was elected to take his place. Garrison was named chairman of the town lot group at a recent meeting of the operators. Refusal of the state board to accept Garrison was taken good naturedly by the operators and Garrison.

NEW CRIMINAL LAW INVOKED BY AUTHORITIES

Believed to be the first person in Southern California to be arrested for failure to register as a felon, Francisco Gandara, 55, Anaheim Mexican, was served with a warrant last night at the county jail for failure to register under the new county ordinance passed a week ago by the board of supervisors, requiring all felons convicted during the last 20 years to notify the sheriff.

Gandara was being held in the jail on a charge of investigation of murder pending further inquiries into the mysterious disappearance of Edward Bustillos, 57, who has been missing since May 13. Gandara's two-day term on the investigation charge would have terminated at 6 p. m. yesterday, but Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson served the new warrant just a few minutes before the deadline. Gandara had not been arraigned in justice court this morning.

Gandara was arrested on September 25 on the investigation of murder charge. When Nicholson served him with the warrant charging failure to register as a felon, he admitted the charge and was rebuked. He said he was sentenced to Folsom prison in 1925 from one to 10 years for receiving stolen goods and was released two years ago after serving six and one-half years. Bustillos lived for several years at Delhi. Another suspect in the case, Sacramento Gallegos, was arrested for investigation of murder Tuesday by Nicholson.

Sheriff's officers, while investigating the Bustillos disappearance, are also seeking clues in the disappearance of Ignacio Herrera, 30, who left Delhi on September 12 and has not been seen since. Foul play is feared but no definite information has been secured.

RAPID ACTION EXPECTED ON HOME LOANS

With California's first home loan completed in Los Angeles, loans by the home owners' loan corporation will be consummated with rapidity hereafter, according to Monroe Butler, state manager of the corporation.

John E. and Nancy J. Fay, 79 and 71 years of age, respectively, were the first distressed home owners in this state to obtain relief from the government under the provisions of the home loan act. The Fay home in which the couple have resided for the past 18 years, is located at 151 West Fifty-fourth street, Los Angeles. The loan made on the home was $1794 and the mortgagee who accepted the bonds was Mrs. Peggy S. Buck, also of Los Angeles.

During the first seven weeks of operation, the corporation has halted more than 2500 foreclosures on homes in the Los Angeles district alone.

Effect of the work of the corporation officials is shown by the fact that August was the first month during the last two years that home foreclosures in California showed a decrease.

"In addition to making loans," explained Manager Butler, "the most important function we have to perform is to put a halt to the wholesale foreclosures which have been made in the state of California during the last 24 months."

A conference of all district managers and appraisers has been called by Mr. Butler in Los Angeles, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, September 30, October 1 and October 2.

Price Boost Opposed By S. A. Barbers

Barbers of Santa Ana do not approve of the new state code providing for a price of 65 cents for haircuts and do not intend to charge this sum until forced to do so, it was declared today by S. A. Winkle and Joe Steele, members of the NRA barbers' committee.

The code had been scheduled to go into effect tomorrow but the time has been advanced to next Wednesday. It was signed yesterday by Edwin Daugherty, chief administrator of the California Recovery administration, and Timothy Reardon, director of industrial relations.

Local barbers feel that the 15-cent boost in price of haircuts is unwarranted at this time. It was pointed out today that the state measure supersedes the national code for barbers.

Under the code men's haircuts are set at 65 cents, haircuts for children under 12 years of age 50 cents, neck trims 40 cents and shaves 25 cents.

Barbers are to receive $20 a week plus 60 per cent of their receipts exceeding $32, if their wages were $18.20 or more a 10 per cent increase in salary is provided. An eight-hour day is provided, except for Saturdays or days preceding holidays, when nine hours a day are permitted. No employee may work more than 48 hours a week, the code declares.

Barber shops in California will be open 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. except Saturdays or days preceding holidays, when they may be open an additional hour.

WELCOME NEWS OF PROPOSAL TO DEVELOP BAY

Possibility that the federal government may become a factor in the development of Newport harbor was received with enthusiasm in the harbor district yesterday, following news dispatches from Washington that Major General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, had recommended the $1,835,441 project to Secretary of War Dorn. Dorn will submit the project to the Public Works administration.

Harbor backers pointed out that they had been attempting for 25 years to secure government backing in the development of the harbor. The report of Major General Brown is based on the condition that local interests match government funds.

George Rogers, who with A. B. Rosselle and City Engineer R. L. Patterson, presented facts and figures to the army engineers, is expected to return home next week. The others returned last week.

Newport harbor would become one of the greatest yachting centers on the coast in the event the project is carried to a successful conclusion, harbor backers declared today. Plans call for dredging the entrance channel to a width of 500 feet and a depth of 20 feet; dredging of the county channel to a width of 300 feet and a depth of 20 feet; dredging of the turning basin to a width of 1000 feet and a depth of 20 feet; dredging of a yacht anchorage basin, comprising 33 acres, to a depth of 15 feet, with the dredging of the remainder of the bay to 10 feet.

The project calls for the extension of the west jetty 760 feet and the east jetty 920 feet, making them 2960 and 1820 feet in length. Certain repair work on the jetties would be undertaken.

SWANBERGER'S HOLDS OPENING FRIDAY NIGHT

Following six weeks of extensive alterations and expansion, Swanberger's Store for Men, 205 West Fourth street, will celebrate completion of remodeling with a formal opening for residents of Santa Ana and Orange county tomorrow night from 8 until 10 o'clock.

Of a distinctively new character, alterations costing $3500 have been made in the "new store at the old location." Front show windows of the store are of a new modernistic design, novel constructed with attractive angles. Front of the store also is new, with expensive metals used in decorations.

A new feature of the store, of which Walter Swanberger, well-known proprietor, is proud, is the expanded clothing department, where it is possible to select clothes by the aid of daylight with the daylight lighting system.

Stocks of clothing in the Swanberger store have been doubled, this having been made possible by the addition of 25 per cent more floor space in the establishment. New and modern styles in all types of clothing for men have been received during the last few days in preparation for the opening event tomorrow night, to which "Swanny" today issued a cordial invitation to all his friends and patrons.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. One bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Bile often backs up in bile ducts. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get that two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name on the red label. Repeat a substitute. See at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

THOMAS H. BOWEN CALLED BY DEATH

He is survived by one brother, Walter Bowen of Spokane, Wash., and three sisters residing in England.

Funeral services will be held from the chapel of the Winbigger Funeral home, 609 North Main street, at 10 a. m. Monday, October 2, with the Rev. Clarence D. Hicks, minister of the Christian Missionary Alliance church, officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

WILL PENALIZE RETAILERS WHO PAY NO TAXES

Notice was received from the state board of equalization today by R. H. McCalla, Orange county board representative, to the effect that any person acting in the capacity of a retailer and who has not received or applied for a permit by October 1, 1933, at expiration of 30 day grace period, shall be subject to a 25 per cent penalty. Complaints will be filed against those persons operating without a permit or refusing to make returns.

Section 24 of the "Retail Sales Tax Act of 1933" reads as follows: "If fraud or evasion on the part of a retailer is discovered by the board, it shall determine the amount by which the state has been defrauded, shall add to the amount so determined a penalty equal to 25 per cent thereof, and shall assess the same against the retailer. The amount so assessed shall be immediately due and payable."

"Section 26 further provides that an unpaid tax penalty becomes a lien on the property and when recorded shall have the force and effect of the lien of a judgment."

McCalla said: "Confusion seems to exist in some people's minds as to what the definition of a retailer might be," he continued, "Section 2, paragraph E, (retailer) includes every person engaged in the business of making sales at retail. The definition of a 'sale' is found in section 2, paragraph B, which is as follows: 'Sale' means any transfer, exchange or barter, conditional or otherwise, in any manner or by any means whatsoever, of a tangible personal property, for a consideration, and includes the furnishing, preparing or serving for a consideration of any tangible personal property consumed on the premises of the person furnishing, preparing or serving such tangible personal property. A transaction whereby the possession of property is transferred but the seller retains the title as security for the payment of the price shall be deemed a sale."

A supply of applications has been furnished the local Chamber of Commerce and McCalla requested those who have not filed for their permit do so immediately.

ORCHARD AND POULTRY LOANS LIBERALIZED

An important interpretation of the regulations under which orchardists and poultry raisers may qualify to secure loans from the farm credit administration's various agencies has been authorized by the administration council in Washington and was released today by President Willard D. Ellis of the federal land bank, eleventh district, in an announcement to the farm adviser's office.

Under the modified conception of the federal farm loan act the specialized nature of these two agricultural industries is recognized and provisions for granting loans to poultrymen and fruit growers have been adjusted accordingly.

"Recognizing that a poultry farm is more a manufacturing plant than an agricultural unit, the administration council has determined that the value of the buildings thereon is a more dominant factor than land values and appraisal may be adjusted accordingly," the announcement said. "The minimum acreage upon which a loan may be based will depend upon whether or not the poultry farm is in a recognized district for that industry, the ability of the average poultryman to succeed on small tracts in the neighborhood, accessibility to markets and earning capacity of the plant as demonstrated over a period of years. Under the new interpretation, no loan for longer than 10 years may be granted."

Orchards, instead of being appraised on "basic values" as heretofore, will be considered for loans based on production value of their specialized purpose, with due consideration given location, sale value, and the expected life of the trees and vines. Farm credit administration appraisers will be required, nevertheless, to take into account such attendant factors as pests, unreasonable frosts and droughts, resistance of rootstocks and demonstrated yield over a period of years.

Both poultry and orchard loans will be made only in thoroughly proved districts where satisfactory marketing facilities exist and not on promotion projects. Poultry raisers will be encouraged to avail themselves of commissioners' loans, which can be made as high as 75 per cent on value of the farm property entitled.

C. A. Palmer is the Orange county agent of the bank and is located in the farm adviser's office, court house annex, Santa Ana.

WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Now that "Pug" Rentner is out of Northwestern, they're telling a corker on him. . . . It seems that the Wilkies' line wasn't holding in one game, and the backs were getting away so slowly that they were being nailed behind the line time and time again. . . . which aroused Coach Dick Hanley no little. . . . Pug was starting out like a truck horse, and Dick soon directed his attention to the star halfback. . . . Finally, after Rentner had pulled an obvious boner, Dick rose in wrath, pointed to Luke Fessler on the bench and yelled: "Go in there and take that fathead's place!" . . . Luke stepped out, took a couple of steps, then turned to Hanley and shouted as all could hear. . . . "What fathead do you mean, coach?"

RUTH PITCHING

Ghosts of another day will cast long shadows across the diamond at Yankee stadium October 1 when Babe Ruth, with those minging steps of his, walks to the mound to pitch one more game. They will be the spirits of men who lined up with Ruth and against him when he pitched his first world series game for the Red Sox 17 years ago. Of these brave souls not one remains in major-league baseball to stand beside the Great Man as he makes his last bow.

FORGOTTEN NAMES

It was the second game of the series against Brooklyn. In the Robins' lineup were Johnston, Daubert, Myers, Wheat, Cuthaw, Mowrey, Olson and Miller, and the opposing pitcher was Sherrod Smith, he of the four-pronged splitter.

With Ruth were Hooper, Walker, Walsh and Lewis in the outfield, big Dick Hoblitzel at first base, Janvrin at second, Deacon Scott at short and Larry Grady at third. Thomas caught.

Ruth won that game, but not with his bat, as Southpaw Sherry whiffed the Great Man twice. The Babe struck out Daubert, Myers, Cuthaw and Olson. The score was Boston 2, Brooklyn 1, in 14 innings.

AGAINST THE CUBS

In the 1918 world series Ruth had the Cub to beat. He was chosen to pitch the first game, and in the batting order of the Cubs were Trach, Holcher, Mann, Peck, Merkle, Pick, Deal and good old Bill Killefer. Big Jim "Hippo" Vaughn opposed the Babe in the box.

The Babe gave the Cubs six hits and no runs in nine innings, and though he had established a reputation as a hitting pitcher, he got more collapse old Hippo.

The Babe's last appearance as a world series pitcher was a few days later in the fourth game of the series. He weakened in the seventh and they had to derrick the Great Man out of there, but he stayed in the game in left field.

In the fourth inning of that game, however, George Tyler made the mistake of grooving one to George Herman. It went for a triple, driving in the two runs Boston needed to win the game.

MRS. BAER TO SEEK DECREE IN MEXICO

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—(INS)—

Mrs. Dorothy Dunbar Wells Baer will file suit "somewhere in Mexico" today to divorce Max Baer, heavyweight prize fighter.

This announcement was made by her attorney following a conference with Baer at which an amicable agreement was reached last night.

Mrs. Baer will waive maintenance and support and will be given certain of Baer's properties, her attorney said.

Mrs. Baer filed a divorce suit in Sacramento several months ago but withdrew it following a reconciliation with the young fighter after he returned from the east where he defeated Max Schmeling.

TILDEN PLANS NINE STARTS FOR COCHET

PARIS, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Henri

Cochet, mainstay of French Davis Cup teams for seven years, will play nine professional tennis matches in the United States during February and March. "Big Bill" Tilden said last night before sailing for New York on the liner Bremen.

Tilden, who has been on a professional tour of Europe, said he and another American player would oppose Cochet in matches at New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago.

Cochet had not been selected yet, but French tennis experts still believe Ellsworth Vines, former United States National champion, will turn professional before then and meet Cochet.

SPARTANS LOSE TO LONG BEACH RAMBLERS, 7-0

Unable to match the offensive skill of their visitors, and decidedly outclassed in aerial maneuvers, the Santa Ana Spartans, newly-organized "club" football team, dropped a 7-0 contest to the powerful Long Beach Ramblers before a turnout of 600 at the Municipal Bowl last night.

Receipts were announced as $119.75, with reports still to come from several ticket-distributing sources. The Santa Ana club will donate its end to the Santa Ana Merchants association which will apply the money on a deficit incurred by the Fiesta del Oro.

Coach "Bud" McKee's all-star backfield in general, and Al Maloney and Kelly Moan in particular, provided all the thrills. Maloney on running plays and Moan with bullet-like passes.

Maloney, a tiny blond and former U. S. C. back, shook himself loose on the Long Beach 30-yard line early in the first quarter and ran 33 yards to place the Ramblers in position for the only touchdown. With the ball 17 yards from the goal following Maloney's brilliant dash, Long Beach advanced the rest of the way in five plays. Maloney circled right end for 12 yards, three 1-yard gains brought the playkin to the 2-yard mark, and Morrison, fullback, scored on a line buck. His conversion kick was perfect.

Santa Ana started off well, and ended the same way, but its play in the second and third quarters was desultory. Blanchard Beatty, former Trojan quarterback, made one good run of 16 yards for the Spartans early in the first quarter, but Santa Ana lost the ball on downs near the Long Beach 50-yard line. Late in the final period, with Garlock and Beatty carrying the load, the Spartans drove to within 11 yards of the Long Beach goal before losing the ball on downs. An exchange of punts gave the Spartans the ball again, 31 yards away from scoring territory, but a series of passes failed, another exchange of punts was made, and Santa Ana was left struggling on its own 30 at the half.

Immediately after scoring in the first quarter, Long Beach launched a threatening aerial attack, featuring Moan and End Murphy. The Ramblers receiver made several difficult catches, and furnished virtually all of the evening's excitement aside from the long run of Maloney. They drove to Santa Ana's 23-yard line in the second quarter, but lost the ball on downs. Interception of a long pass by "Red" Manderscheid, Spartan halfback, broke up another drive late in the same period. Wayne Garlock, quarterback, soon after recovered a fumble which Murphy of Long Beach made on the return of one of Hideo Higashi's punts, but the Spartans were nailed in their tracks on their own 42.

Higashi's Kicking Outstanding. Halfback Higashi, former Don star, featured the third quarter with long punts which kept Long Beach in its own territory most of the time. "Gib" Meisinger, center, recovered a Rambler's fumble of one of Higashi's punts to give Santa Ana possession of the ball on the Long Beach 40. The Spartans were forced to kick on fourth down.

Moan, 52 star for Long Beach Jaycees, reeled off 23 yards around right end, and Halfback Brown made three yards around the left side in the fourth quarter, but a 15-yard penalty for holding was inflicted upon the Ramblers. On the next play, Fullback Morrison, cutting through right tackle, was thrown by Merle Boyle, and forced from the game. His injury, however, was not reported as serious.

Beatty, Higashi and Dawson were standouts in the Santa Ana backfield, with Maloney, Moan, Morrison and Mittelstedt shining for Long Beach. The Spartan line-men all stood up fairly well, Higashi and Murphy were outstanding for the Ramblers.

Santa Ana travels to Santa Barbara for its third contest Sunday. The Spartans tied the San Diego American Legion, 6-6, in San Diego last week. They play here again Oct. 18, facing the Western Eagles.

Swivel-Hipped Pop Lugs the Leather

FOOTE REVEALS FOOTBALL LINEUP FOR SANTA BARBARA

Although Coach Bill Foote will not disclose until tomorrow the squad of 35 Santa Ana Saints which goes north Saturday, he announced today that he would start against Santa Barbara the same eleven men who opened the 30-0 Orange engagement last week.

There is a possibility that Leroy Levens will play quarterback instead of Waldo Smith, who is favoring a bruised knee, but Walt Hendrie, Paul Hales and Art Stranks, the backs who ripped Orange's line to pieces will go postward, and so will the "seven mules," Myron Newton and Dick Shepard, ends; Roland Williams and Charles Roemer, tackles; Capt. Ford Underwood and Dick DeSmet, guards; and Al Halderman, center.

The Saints had a heavy practice yesterday, and Foote was to engineer another intensive workout this afternoon. The team will merely limber up Friday, however, retiring early to prepare for the Northern excursion which begins at 6:17 a. m.

Foote is well pleased with the progress of some of his reserve linemen, mostly juniors or sophomores. Bain Alexander and "Butch" Schultz, the latter a maverick end, are forcing Williams and Roemer for the first string tackle positions, and "Bud" Hoel, Don Evans, Russell Abbey and Don Lentz have shown rapid improvement at tackle. The reserve ends are McCune, Erdhaus, Yonel and Southworth, rated about in that order at this time.

Dave Webb, one of the leading centers, has been out with illness for two weeks but will be back in the race Monday, seeking to displace Halderman, Ray Hamilton and Ray Foster.

Foote is genuinely concerned about his second string backs who thus far haven't learned to block as well as the coach hoped. Major Anderson has learned the assignments at both left and right half, and Bill Hawkins and Ray Clark, also show progress but the other candidates have much work ahead of them.

Santa Ana Hi's middleweight football squad, coached by Clyde Cook, travels to Huntington Beach tomorrow afternoon for a practice game with the Oiler Bees at 3 o'clock.

The Saints received a 6-0 setback at Orange last week, but Coach Cook ran in a stream of substitutions, and won the game against Huntington Beach tomorrow. Murray Patton and Tom Hammill, both experienced lightweights, will alternate at quarterback for Santa Ana. The Bees open their Coast league season at Pasadena October 14.

PALO ALTO—Coach Thorhill groomed eight of the fastest backfield men in the conference today for the U. C. L. A. contest, confident that Stanford's 29 plays will be enough to lick the Bruins.

Berkeley—Coach Bill Ingram said today he would start the California varsity in each game of the double-header Saturday against Cal. Aggies and Nevada, but hoped to use every varsity regular during the contests.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE—Coach "Slip" Madigan today groomed Alarum as quarter, Wilson and Nicholson as halfbacks and Dodson as fullback to start against U. S. F. Sunday in Kezar stadium.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Oregon State's varsity was engineered today to see that Bob Stansberry, Montana halfback, does not duplicate Saturday's performance of a year ago, when he ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown.

EUGENE, Ore.—Frank Michels and Stew Milligan, sophomore backfield men, and "Chuck" Wishard, letterman end, were given temporary varsity status today as Coach "Pink" Callison shifted his players in jigsaw fashion in preparing for Gonzaga.

LOS ANGELES—A dual shift in his line was engineered by Coach Bill Sapulding today as he prepared to set out with his U. C. L. A. gridlers tomorrow for Stanford. Alarum and Yearick were placed in reserve roles to make room for Duke Trotter at guard and Rafferty at tackle. Yearick is recovering from a pleurisy attack. Sapulding said he would take 45 men on the Northern trip.

LOS ANGELES—Yom Kippur may deprive U. S. C. of one of its mainstays as well as the Trojan collied with little Loyola university. Aaron Rosenberg, star guard, said he may travel to Los Angeles for the Jewish feast day. If he does not, Francis McGinley is expected to get the call.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—(UP)—After waiting four years, Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, former light heavyweight champion, last night avenged a knockout by winning a 15-round decision over Jack Sharkey of Boston, former heavyweight champion.

The decision stands in the record books, but it was a hollow victory because of its narrow margin. A disappointingly small crowd of 8000 at Baker bowl saw the two old men of the ring mix it in their return bout. Paid admission totalled less than enough to cover Sharkey's guarantee of $25,000.

Al Voice, one of the judges, cast his vote for Sharkey. The United Press scoresheet also was in Sharkey's favor, giving him seven rounds, Loughran six and two even.

There were no knockdowns, although in the tenth Sharkey missed a right and slipped to one knee, causing an uproar from the fans who thought he had been felled.

Sharkey opened a gash over Loughran's right eye in the first round with a hard left hook, and it bled intermittently throughout the bout. Loughran's darting left jab and his dancing skill kept him away from Sharkey's vicious right. Sharkey rallied brilliantly in the last three rounds, battering Tommy about the face almost without return. Sharkey weighed 202, Loughran 153.

After those two, Northwestern, Southern California and Army will follow and we'll have to be at tops for all of them," said Anderson. "I wouldn't be surprised if Purdue knocked us off, and Southern California also may beat us. I expect two lickings, maybe three."

With Louie Neve pitching his second successive shutout game, Torrance defeated Rialto, 2-0, and took a commanding lead of three-to-one in the Southern California championship night-ball series last night. Neve fanned 18 and scattered his five hits over as many innings.

NOTRE DAME'S FATE IN HANDS OF SOPH TRIO

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 28.—(UP)—Three sophomores hold the fate of Notre Dame's football this season. They are Tony Mazzotti, Italian quarterback from White Plains, N. Y.; Andy Pilney, Bohemian halfback from Chicago, and Don Elser, giant German fullback from Gary, Ind.

If Mazzotti, Pilney and Elser perform up to expectations, Notre Dame will be great—possibly great enough to win back the National football championship, surrendered to Southern California two years ago.

If the three youngsters prove disappointments, Notre Dame still will be good—possibly as strong as last year and still a big factor in the battle for the National title.

Mazzotti Fills Gap

Mazzotti at 190 pounds, a bigger edition of Frank Carideo, seems to hold the key to Notre Dame's fortunes. Quarterback, where three men alternated last year, was Notre Dame's weak link. Mazzotti has that cocky air of confidence exemplified by Stuhldreher and Carideo, and which gave Notre Dame teams, under Knute Rockne, savior-faire on the football field.

"Our quarterbacks were too light last year," said Coach Hearty Anderson. "They couldn't block out those big tackles and ends like Pitt and Southern California threw at us. Mazzotti can block."

The flying triangle of Mazzotti, Elser and Pilney, operating behind a veteran line average 192 pounds—all big, tough, smart forwards—promises to create havoc in the ranks of the opposition.

Mazzotti and Elser, aided by Ray Brancheau or Johnny Tobin, right halfbacks, will clear the way, and Pilney will do the ball-carrying. The first time this combination was turned loose in scrimmage, Pilney scampered for three touchdowns on runs ranging from 13 to 40 yards.

Pilney Faster Than Schwartz

Pilney is faster and a harder hitter than Marcy Schwartz, according to Anderson, but not quite as clever. Elser, weighing 215, carries his weight gracefully, but when he crashes into an opponent he explodes like T. N. T.

Mazzotti, Elser and Pilney are not all Notre Dame has. They have Ed Krause, all-American tackle in some quarters last year; Hugh De Vore, expected to be one of the great ends of the year; Harry Wunsch, left guard expected to make a great comeback without his extra fat this season; Tom Roach, a tackle slated to fill All-American Joe Kuntz's shoes; Nick Lukats, a great left halfback in his own right; Steve Banas, a powerful veteran fullback.

Notre Dame has a tougher schedule than last year, with Kansas and Indiana replacing Drake and Haskell. The games the Irish are pointing for are Pittsburgh and Purdue.

After those two, Northwestern, Southern California and Army will follow and we'll have to be at tops for all of them," said Anderson. "I wouldn't be surprised if Purdue knocked us off, and Southern California also may beat us. I expect two lickings, maybe three."

WALSH STRINGS WITH GIANTS OVER SENATORS

Sport editor's note: This is the seventh and last of a series of stories by Davis J. Walsh, presenting contrasting views of the two teams that will meet in the 1933 world series.)

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(INS)—One man says the Washington Senators, another the New York Giants, but after thinking very deeply behind locked doors and drawn blinds, I'm beginning to suspect that if anybody's wrong it's both of them. Now that we understand each other on that one, perhaps I ought to add that I also think the world series of 1933 is liable to be won by neither team.

Disclosures of an equally startling nature will be made later but, in the meantime, I'm very earnestly of the opinion that the real winner of the series will be the National league's "dead ball" and I'm therefore going to like the Giants until such time as somebody may happen along and make a clump out of both of us.

Dead Ball To Decide Series

The dead-ball thing is nothing to the Giants. They've had it all year, lived with it; even won with it. But, either way, it will be no novelty. The Senators, however, will be getting it for the first time—not once, but in four of the seven games, including the very important two at the start and the all-important two at the finish. I think the series will be won and lost in three games.

Everything, in fact, seems to indicate that the Giants will enjoy a much greater advantage with their ball than the Senators will when the scene shifts to Washington for the three middle games and the more agile American league ball comes into use. For one thing, the Senators will think they're hitting what the boys call a tomato-surprise at the Polo Grounds. They'll hit it with their Sunday swing, with those nearby fences waiting, and if they connect solidly and the wind is favorable, it may even go all the way to first base. Better ball teams than the Senators have been discouraged by less.

Giant Pitching Hand-Picked

For another thing, Giant pitching has been so calculated as to discourage anybody under these conditions. It has been hand-picked to make all teams hit into the dirt—Hubbell with his low screw-ball, Schumacher with his overhand sinker, Fitzsimmons with his knuckle-ball. If Hubbell is at all right in the first game, the Senators won't be able to get that ball of his in the air. They might even have trouble doing this against him with the lively ball in Washington but, if he's really curling them around the knees here, the result is almost ordained.

Anyhow, with Hubbell and Schumacher working the first two under conditions ideal for them, it doesn't seem likely that the Giants will do worse than an even break before heading for Washington. They might even win both, in which case you can write the rest of it off and turn your attention to something important. I think the Pirates won the first two in 1903 and then blew the series but otherwise the performance is without precedent and the Giants are not the club that can't protect a winning hand.

Giants Will Hit Lively Ball

But, assuming that they split the first two, they'll move on to Washington where the Senators will get their own ball for the first time and also their own fences, meaning that the ball can go further and so can the rival outfielders. Giant pitching also can take greater chances here and Giant hitters, coming up against a live one for the first time, ought to do a lot of punch-hitting.

Frankly, I think Fitzsimmons will lose his game at Washington to Stewart but that either Hubbell or Schumacher will win at least once, thus bringing the series back to the Polo Grounds where, getting their second shot at a club that is not

LEWIS ESTATE AGAIN BROUGHT BEFORE COURT

Affairs of the Otto S. Lewis estate are due for another airing in superior court through filing of a suit by Robert Todd Brownfield, a minor, through his guardian, H. J. Brownfield. The suit named as defendants the estate, E. T. McFadden, its trustee and Reeves Aylmore, former executor and trustee who was discharged by the court at the time McFadden was appointed.

The suit asked judgment for $18,000 alleged to have been borrowed on behalf of the Lewis estate by Aylmore, the former executor. The complaint also asks $1428 alleged to be due as interest on the loan and $1942 as attorney fees.

Aylmore, according to the suit borrowed the $18,000 from the Brownfield estate in 1930, with which to pay debts and administration expenses of the Lewis estate. He gave as security a $45,000 contract for sale of Long Beach property.

Subsequently the $45,000 was paid to the estate and $18,000 set aside in a Santa Ana bank, by court order, to pay the Brownfield note. However, without notice to Brownfield, the court later granted Aylmore permission to invest the $18,000 in bonds of the Vista Irrigation district, which were substituted as security for the Brownfield note.

When the Lewis estate was turned over to Aylmore as trustee, he executed a new note to Brownfield, posting the $18,000 Vista bonds as security and agreeing, it is claimed, to give in addition a $33,000 note and mortgage covering timber property in Oregon. The note and mortgage, however, was never turned over to the plaintiff, the complaint alleges. The complaint also charges that the Vista bonds are inadequate security, being worth no more than $5000.

McFadden, as successor to Aylmore, has declined to grant the plaintiff's claims, the suit alleges, so the court is asked to direct him to pay the $18,000 from the Lewis estate, and to restrain him from disposing of any assets of the estate until payment is made.

REFUSE LAW REGULATING ROCK PLANTS

Lacking belief in the "altruistic motives prompting the request," according to a board member, the board of supervisors declined to adopt an ordinance requiring the licensing and regulation of rock plants planning to start operations in Orange county at the session Tuesday.

The request was made by representatives of the California Rock association and the Southern California Rock association. In making the request for regulation of rock plants in this county the representatives of the two groups declared that all rock plant operators have signed the NRA code and have shortened hours as well as increased the pay of workers.

Because the code of fair competition governing the operation of rock plants will prohibit establishment of more such plants, the representatives declared there is a rush to get such plants under construction before the code is formally approved. These plants, they alleged, are being built for the purpose of later sale to other operators of larger plants.

The ordinance requested by the plant operators would require the securing of a license before work is started on a plant and regulation as to location enforced by the board of supervisors. They called attention to a plant that it is planned to open in this county and said that already there are two plants in the county that are selling 20 per cent under the quantity of rock produced.

Representatives of the rock plants said they were asking for regulation of future plants to assure that they would not be operated in locations that might offer a flood or other property damage menace to public property. They pointed out that under the proposed ordinance the supervisors could control location of any future plants.

Supervisor LeRoy Lyons indicated his disapproval of the board adopting such measure by saying that it was remarkable that the matter should be brought up at this time from an altruistic desire on a part of the rock plant operators to protect public property.

The only flood menace to public property in this county, he said, is from Santiago creek and ample protection is being provided by the Santiago dam. He said that the request appears to be the purpose of rock producers to have the board do something that is not in its line—regulation of commerce or the limitation of fair competition.

Supervisor W. C. Jerome agreed with Lyons and said that to adopt such an ordinance would place the board in a position of trying to shut out competition.

Representatives of the Rock associations indicated that they plan to take the matter before the county planning commission in an attempt to have rock plants included in the contemplated county zoning ordinance.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts.

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Co. invites every Pile Sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

CLAIM SANCHEZ UNDER AGE AT TIME OF KILLING

Confronted with the surprise testimony that Jose Sanchez, charged with the murder of Loren Eckles of Orange on July 21, 1931, was only 17 years old at the time of the shooting, instead of 18, as previously understood, Judge Kenneth Morrison had no alternative this morning but to cite Sanchez to the juvenile court following evidence presented at the preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Sebastina Morales, mother of the man who is charged with shooting the 24-year-old man in an El Toro dance hall 16 years ago, dropped a bombshell in the crowded courtroom when she said her son was born on June 28, 1900, and could not have been 18 years old at the time of the asserted shooting. Charles Eckles, San Jose, brother of the slain man, said outside of court that Sanchez was 21 but could offer no proof.

Another dramatic episode in the trial occurred when Dale Trapp, employee of the Irvine Warehouse, non-plussed the prosecution by refusing to identify Sanchez as the murderer. Questioned by Defense Attorney W. Maxwell Burke he testified he was 13 years old at the time of the shooting and learned from a newspaper clipping the next day that Sanchez had killed the man. He testified that he did not know Sanchez but remembered that Sanchez had a scar on his chin. Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson testified that Sanchez had a scar on his chin.

The district attorney's office said today that the citation to the juvenile court was only a temporary delay. Observers said that the testimony of Mrs. Morales was really an aid to the prosecution because of the unexpected failure of Trapp to make a positive identification. It is predicted that despite the law of 1915 which makes him a juvenile case, Sanchez will be certified back to justice court by Judge Homer Ames.

The most damaging evidence presented by the prosecution was thought to be the statement of Dan Rios, Maywood truck driver who was 13 years old at the time, that he saw Sanchez with a gun outside the dance hall. He said he heard Sanchez say to him, "Anybody looking for trouble can come to me," and then heard three shots, followed by a wild scramble and pursuit of Sanchez from the dance hall by several young men.

The arrest of Sanchez aroused wide interest last week because of the manhunt Sheriff Logan Jackson has continued during the past 16 years. Sanchez was apprehended after Nicholson ran down a clue secured during an investigation of another murder in Del Rio, and located Sanchez in a San Fernando sanitarium under another name.

Present at the hearing were C. E. Jackson, sheriff of Orange county in 1917, but no relation of the present official; W. F. Menton, who signed the warrant after the murder and other men connected with the case when it first started.

Lucas Lucio, Orange county representative of the Mexican consul in Los Angeles, broadcast an appeal last night over KREG for funds to help with the defense of Sanchez. The message, which was given during a Mexican program at 9:30 p. m., was authorized by the Mexican consul and funds are to be turned over to Lucio.

Two grandchildren also survive, Horace R. Bristol of Santa Paula and Gordon Garnett of Santa Ana.

FILM STAR LOSES DRIVING LICENSE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Sixteen-year-old Mildred Lehrman, who came here from Albuquerque, N. M., to enter motion pictures, cannot drive an automobile again until she is 21.

Juvenile Referee Margaret Pratt made the girl a ward of the juvenile court today following her arrest for presumably causing the death of Charles Russian in a traffic accident three weeks ago. A coroner's jury blamed the girl's negligent driving for the crash.

MURDER CASE INQUEST HELD IN COURT HERE

Tangled stories of love and murder were being brought to light this afternoon at the coroner's inquest in department two of superior court over the body of Francisco Mendoza, 27, Delhi Mexican who was killed last November and thrown in a ravine near Laguna Beach by Jose Pena and Sylvia Delsie, both of whom are charged with his murder.

At a late hour this morning, neither Pena nor the woman had been arraigned on the murder charges. The complaints were sworn out Tuesday in justice court. Pena has admitted killing Mendoza, claiming self-defense, while the woman says she helped Pena take her former lover, still alive, to the lonely spot south of Laguna Beach, where he was thrown into the ravine.

Deputy Coroner Bert Castiex scheduled the inquest for Santa Ana because the decomposed body of Mendoza could only be moved with difficulty and had already been positively identified by Pena and the woman at Laguna Beach.

Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson, who has conducted the investigation and was largely responsible for the confession of Pena, was expected to be the principal witness.

Phillip Delsie, brother of the accused woman and himself charged with possession of a blackjack, had his preliminary hearing continued yesterday in Anaheim justice court until October 5. On the same day in Santa Ana justice court, Pena, Mrs. Delsie and Francisco Gomez will have their preliminary hearing on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor children.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT IN COMEDY SHOWING

Claudette Colbert, seen here recently in "Torch Singer," comes back to the Fox West Coast theater today for a two day showing of "Three Cornered Moon," one of the latest comedies the screen has offered in many months.

An unusually large cast is seen in the picture, including Richard Arlen, Mary Boland, Wallace Ford, Tom Brown, Lyda Roberti and William Blakewell. There are some 20 other prominent parts.

The story concerns "the craziest family in town." The depression means nothing to them, for they all have jobs and they go about enjoying life as if Wall Street had never taken its nose dive. A Charlie Chase comedy "Nature in the Wrong," a travelogue and a news reel complete the bill.

"POWER AND GLORY" OPENS HERE TODAY

Marking the return to the screen of Colleen Moore, the much discussed picture, "The Power and the Glory," which stars Spencer Tracy, opens a three day engagement at the Broadway theater today.

Critics throughout the country have declared the new film one of the most inspiring of the year and Liberty Magazine bemoaned the fact that its manner of grading pictures allowed it to give "The Power and the Glory" only four stars.

It is the story of a railroad man, inspired by love, who works his way from a trackwalker to president of the road. Drama, romance and deep understanding of life make the picture one of the top notches of the season. "Thundering Taxis," a comedy, "The Nut Factory," a cartoon and a travelogue and news reel complete the bill.

RELEASED FROM JAIL

Richard W. Brooks and Homer Carlisle, charged with burglary yesterday on good behavior after serving five months of a six months' sentence. Under terms of their sentence, they will be on probation for three years.

PREDICTS NORMAN THOMAS AS ROOSEVELT SUCCESSOR IF RECOVERY PROGRAM FAILS

Emphasizing the great need for full cooperation with the N. R. A. program and predicting Norman Thomas as a successor to Franklin Roosevelt if the recovery program fails, Dr. C. J. Ruley spoke before members and guests of the Orange County Breakfast club at the regular meeting this morning in Ketter's cafe.

The speaker was introduced by $10 to give for buying an advertisement in the California Highway Patrol magazine as a benefit for widows and orphans of members of the patrol.

Hubert Brown, who recently returned from a trip East, reported to the club this morning that conditions in the East are distinctly better and that many more men are working than were a short time ago.

"The destiny of the nation is hanging on a thread; the thread of cooperation. If the basic industries do not cooperate and the thread breaks we will be plunged in a state of chaos greater than before. If basic industries do not cooperate and the thread breaks Norman Thomas will be the logical man to succeed Roosevelt."

"Selfish intelligence is the root of all greed, crime and improper human behavior. Altruistic intelligence, such as is now guiding the nation, is the opposite. That is why money now is being poured in at the bottom instead of at the top."

The speaker urged everyone to cooperate with the NRA program, pointing out that the NRA is but the first move in the recovery program. He warned against allowing opposition to the administration to find a loophole for dividing the ranks and making the program fail.

Prior to the address, entertainment was furnished by two vocal numbers sung by George Stinson, the "Singing Cop," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Stinson. Mrs. Grover gave two whistling numbers, accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon, club pianist.

The series of lectures will continue on the first Tuesday of each month as part of the evening high school program.

"Newer Ways to Make Children Happier" will be the general subject of the first evening's discussion. This will deal with the importance of the parent-child relationship not only from the child's viewpoint but also from the parents' and teachers'.

These lectures are provided by the schools of Santa Ana, arranged by the adult education department, and are free to all who care to attend.

Dr. Fenton also is serving on the mental hygiene committee of the Fourth District Parent-Teacher association which is completing plans for a county-wide clinic service.

FORMER NATIONAL LEADER OF DISABLED VETS GIVEN WARM WELCOME AT MEETING

A vociferous welcome was given Past National Commander William Conley of the Disabled American Veterans by members and friends of Jack Fisher chapter of that organization at the regular meeting at Getty hall here last night.

Commander Conley gave a general resume of the situation at Washington as it exists today and exhorted the local officers and members to exert every effort so that a marked increase would be shown this year, in this way, assisting the national department in the program adopted at the annual convention.

The D.A.V. leader of last year referred to a recent magazine article in which his organization and Washington representatives were maliciously arraigned regarding presumptive cases. Conley in an emphatic statement, denied the remarks accredited to Thomas Kirby of Washington, D.C., legislative chairman of the organization, as defined in this article, describing in detail the record and personality of Kirby.

A large delegation of Jack Fisher members is expected to be in attendance at the fourth district picnic scheduled for October 8 at Fairmont park, Riverside, a feature of which will be a baseball game between the third and fourth districts. A few of the local men are expected to appear in the lineup, chapter officials say.

An invitation to attend the American Legion Post No. 131 meeting tonight was given and a great number of D.A.V. members are expected to be on hand to hear Judge LeRoy Dawson's address.

Deciding that Eugene Salter, 33, came to his death from shotgun wounds from a gun in the hands of his son with homicidal intent and that the son, W. Jason Salter, 35, died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound with suicidal intent, a coroner's jury heard evidence yesterday afternoon in the fatal shooting of the two men Monday.

Deputy Coroner Bert Castelv was in charge of the inquest, which was held in the Smith and Tutthill funeral home. Among the witnesses called were Elmer Buffham, neighbor of the Salters, who was the first to see the son after he killed his father and then shot himself, and Assistant Chief of Police Harry Fink, who took the son to the Orange County hospital with his face partly shot away.

The son has been in a demented condition since an automobile accident several years ago, members of the family declared. He lived with his father at 1231 Fairview street. Relatives said he had no reason to do the shooting and that they had warned the father not to stay alone with him. The elder man, a pioneer of Santa Ana and former city employee, was shot four times with a shotgun before the son turned the gun on himself.

Funeral services were held this afternoon from the Smith and Tutthill funeral home.

Russian Refugee Wins Audience by Talk Before Y. W.

Relating dramatic details of her life during the Russian revolution and as a refugee, Dr. Sonia Poushkaeff, a Russian countess, held her audience enthralled when she spoke Monday evening before the Y. W. C. A. of Santa Ana Junior College Y. W. C. A. in the college Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Poushkaeff briefly described the terrible conditions of the soldiers when she worked among them during the World war. She depicted her escapes from the revolutionists and how she saved her husband's family: the death of her small daughter from starvation and thirst; the deplorable conditions of the refugees in Constantinople, and finally her arrival in New York City. From there she came to Colorado, working her way through the state university, passed the California examination for doctor of dental science and began her practice in Hollywood. The countess concluded with the hope of seeing Russia once more, and stated that Russia's spirit is broken but is still alive.

Following a dinner earlier in the evening Miss Jean Rockwell, president, conducted the business session. It was announced that new appointments to the cabinet included Miss Marian Dickey, publicity chairman; Miss Frances Wilbur, song leader; Miss Genevieve Humiston, Mrs. John Tessimann, Miss Mabel Whiting, Miss Mildred Frazier, Mrs. J. Plans Launched for Wrycende Maegden Winter Activities

Recollections of the several winters she has spent in Mexico where her husband is a mining engineer, provided Mrs. Marshall Northcross with a fund of interesting tales to recount Tuesday night, to Wrycende Maegden members at their weekly dinner in the Y. W. C. A. clubrooms.

Amplifying the talk, Mrs. Northcross showed a number of curios including some beautiful serapes, quaint pottery and a matador's costume which is really a museum piece and of great value both intrinsically because of its gold embroidery, and sentimentally because it was worn by one of Mexico's greatest matadors.

Plans were made for the two chief class projects, the chorus and arts and crafts under Miss Helen Glancy, each course to cover nine weeks beginning with next Tuesday night. Both courses will be conducted with the annual "Mexican Kitchen" of the club in mind. This is planned as a benefit each year by the Wrycende Maegden club, and will be given early in December. Those taking the chorus course will give special attention to Mexican folk songs, while native arts will be studied by the others, both in pottery and in needlework.

Succeeding the Tuesday night dinner, club members were hostesses to a group of bridge players requiring some ten or a dozen tables. An autumnal motif was suggested by flowers in russet and bronze shades, by autumn leaf tailors cards, and by the refreshment course of gingerbread waffles served with whipped cream, coffee and salted nuts in unique brown and gold nut cups.

Miss Charlotte Harnols, social chairman, and Miss Eva Deane Caskey, ways and means chairman, were in charge of the benefit party plans. They had selected pretty prizes which were awarded Miss Dorothy Beckman, scoring high, Miss Dorothy Lutz, second high and Mrs. Leona Stitt, winner of the door prize.

Members were seated at tables brightened with shaded orange and yellow candlesticks from which rose tall tapers. The autumn theme was further carried out in bouquets of artistically arranged flowers.

Mrs. W. E. Hickey, leader, was in charge of the business session during which plans were outlined for the new season. Mrs. Howard Rapp was appointed chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Fred Newcomb and Mrs. Gus Leifer, flower committee and Mrs. E. H. Gunther, press.

Remaining hours were devoted to bridge in which Mrs. B. V. Curry, Mrs. John Backus and Mrs. Wade Warner scored first, second and third high.

Members present were Mesdames John Backus, C. E. Bressler, Harvey Bennett, Nick Brock, B. V. Curry, Harvey Gardner, E. H. Gunther, W. E. Hickey, Roy Langley, Catherine Marble, Fred Newcomb, George Osterman, R. H. Prothero, Howard Rapp, D. O. Rice, Harvey Spears, Hugh Shields, Wade Warner and Miss Louise Tubbs.

Church Societies

A successful meeting of First Presbyterian Aid society members held recently in the home of Mrs. Mabel F. Leach, 2130 North Broadway, served to launch a year of church work that promises to be both valuable and interesting.

Since it was the first post-vacation meeting, members enjoyed hearing accounts of summer trips and outings which various ones had experienced. This provided an impromptu but most entertaining program and fostered the sociability which distinguishes meetings of the group.

Completing the afternoon, Mrs. R. H. Ewert, Mrs. Harrison White, Mrs. E. L. Redford and Mrs. C. L. Adams, as hostess committee, served refreshments.

Honor guests for the occasion were Mrs. Floyd Annin club president, and Mrs. Bert Annin, her mother. Attending were Mrs. G. Wendell Olson, Mrs. Adrian King, Mrs. R. S. Gregory, Miss Ellen Sneyley, Mrs. W. J. Carmichael, Mrs. William Holte, Mrs. J. J. Alexander, Miss Nancy Lee Carmichael, Mrs. J. F. Schweitzer and the hostess and Mrs. Monte Porter, secretary.

Party Guests Shower Bride-Elect With Gifts

When Mrs. William Lundak and Mrs. Ray Knoblock joined Tuesday night as hostesses at a delightful shower, they complimented the former's daughter, Miss Esther Lundak, whose marriage to Walter H. Dugan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dugan of Orange is to take place Sunday, October 1.

The Lundak home, 1015 West Highland avenue, brightened with many pretty yellow dahlias, was setting for the event. During the early part of the evening, guests recorded favorite recipes for the bride to be. Cards were played and Mrs. Warren Sullivan and Miss Norma Lundak were awarded prizes for scoring high and low.

During a pleasant interval the honoree was presented with attractively wrapped packages which proved to contain green kitchen accessories.

Mrs. Bert Stewart assisted the hostesses in serving buffet refreshments of fruit jello and cake.

Present in addition to the honoree, Miss Esther Lundak, and the hostesses, Mrs. Lundak and Mrs. Knoblock, were Mesdames Vera Combs, Warren Sullivan, Everett Reid, Bert Stewart, Bernard Kilroy and the Misses June Wright, Myrtle Boise, Pearl Wilson, Irene Lundak, Norma Lundak and Sedalia Lundak.

Morning Ride Through Hills Precedes Breakfast

Federation Meeting Scheduled for Tomorrow

More than 200 members of the Southern California Federation of Daughters of Union Veterans are expected to be in Santa Ana tomorrow attending a meeting to be held in Knights of Pythias hall, with Sarah A. Rounds' tent of this city as hostess organization.

Plans for entertaining the delegates were furthered Tuesday afternoon at a business meeting held by the local tent in Pythian hall. The morning session tomorrow is to be devoted to exemplification of the work, with all tents taking part. Santa Ana Daughters are to be in charge of initiation. This meeting will be closed to visitors.

The afternoon session will follow luncheon at noon and will be open to all interested. There will be a program at this time. It is expected that Sarah A. Rounds' tent will be well represented at the meeting.

During their business interval Tuesday, the Daughters took in four new members, Mesdames Florence Price, Thelma Wellington, Ebel M. Warner and Valen-dine A. Harding. It was reported that 40 calls had been made, 36 bouquets distributed and $4.50 expended for relief work. All officers were present.

Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt, who returned home recently from St. Paul, Minn., where she attended the national encampment, gave a report of the meeting.

Plans were made for presenting a flag to Girl Scouts of Troop No. 4.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Breakfast
Choice of
Slice of Persian melon
Ripe pear
1 scrambled egg, served on
1 slice of dry toast
1 cup coffee with
1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar
Calory total, 325

Put 1/2 teaspoon of butter into a small skillet, break in the egg, mix quickly with a fork, adding 2 or 3 tablespoons hot skim milk while the egg cooks. It should be quite creamy. Pour it over the slice of hot, dry toast as soon as done.

A BLEACHING FACIAL

The Lemon Juice Mask
On Tuesday I gave directions for using the egg pack to firm up lagging muscles and clear the skin of blackheads and pore dirt. Today we'll do something about the tan on neck, face and arms.

Remove all clothing around shoulders, pin a bath towel securely around the bust and work a creamy warm soap lather into face, neck and arms. Massage with finger tips until your skin glows, rinse off with tepid water, then dash with cold water to firm the skin. Pat skin dry with soft towel.

Press the juice from 3 lemons, add 2 tablespoonfuls of peroxide and 1 teaspoon of benzoin (not benzine). Add enough flour to make a soft paste. Work it into the skin with finger tips, let the mask dry for 30 minutes. Pat off with tepid water, apply skin food and makeup.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Home-canned Corn
11 cups corn
1 cup sugar
2-3 cup salt
1 quart hot water

Be sure and get corn freshly picked. Strip off husks and silk, cut the corn from cobs and scrape milk from cobs with the back of the knife. To the measured amount add the sugar, salt and hot water. Put over a brisk fire and from the time it begins to boil time it and boil 15 minutes. Have hot sterilized jars and tops ready, fill with the corn to overflowing, and seal.

When wanted for table use, open the corn and soak 2 hours in fresh water, or change the water twice while parboiling, then dress as you wish. The flavor is said to be like fresh corn, and the contributor says, "Do not cook more than double this recipe at once."

For your information: Three level tablespoonfuls of corn have a calory value of 100. Corn being a starchy food, is a source of energy.

Friday: Vase Cookies, delectable bits of crisp goodness for the cookie jar.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON

By George Durno

RICHBERG
Speculation on when and whether General Hugh Johnson will drop the controls as chief pilot of the Blue Eagle is getting to be a popular Washington pastime.

Generally it seems to have been agreed that Johnson went into the big job as an organizer and that when NRA is clicking fairly well he will retire.

The news is that Donald Richberg's name is being buzzed around the corridors to succeed him.

Of course it may be that the wish is father to the thought. NRA's general counsel is an outstanding figure in organized labor.

bor circles and his appointment certainly would please the union men.

By the same token it might not sit so well with the industrialists who have to come here with hat and code in hand.

But the report is worth a look. Richberg has been in on NRA since the Blue Eagle was hatched and knows all its little idiosyncrasies. And he draws $12,000 salary to Johnson's $6000.

DICTIONARY

The boys around the Eagle roost are wondering what became of a brand new interpretation of the competitive bargaining clause that was to have come from Richberg's office several days ago.

General Johnson in his Labor Day speech at Chicago said in so many words that NRA did NOT sponsor the closed shop but merely the right of employees to select their own representatives.

Representatives of industry promptly began hammering away for a formal ruling to that effect. They recalled that Johnson and Richberg had said the phrases "open shop" and "closed shop" had no place in the NRA dictionary.

Word was grapevined out about a week ago that such a ruling had been prepared.

Then it didn't appear. The chances are it won't.

Organized labor got wind of the situation. They said "Let the Act speak for itself. It's perfectly clear."

HEELS

There has been one shake-up under the New Deal that strangely enough has had no publicity.

The tossing around took place in the Bureau of Internal Revenue and quite a few eye teeth were jarred loose.

R. C. Prettyman, new general counsel, did the job. He is the lawyer who represented Senator Couzens of Mich. in the latter's tax wrangle with former Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

When Prettyman was sworn in the first thing he did was look around very carefully. What he saw amazed him.

He discovered cases that had been lying on bureau attorneys' desks for as long as two years without even being touched. He also found that a lot of desk tops were badly scarred from idle heels.

The heels came off the desks pronto and went right out the front door. Even the fact he belonged to ex-Congressmen in some instances didn't bother Prettyman in his house-cleaning.

In an effort to catch up with his horribly jammed docket the general counsel shot some of his best desk men into the field to try cases.

And a system was devised to check cases in the future. The top office will know in short order from now on who is gold-bricking.

SLATED

A very definite rumor is floating the rounds that Guy T. Heilvering will resign as Commissioner of Internal Revenue by January 1.

Necessity of returning to his private business is the reason given in some quarters.

Political considerations are ascribed in others.

OVERDONE

A new order is being developed in patronage distribution.

In the near future Democratic bigwigs will look askance at the claims of men who made big contributions to the Party treasury and seek to place their fair-haired boys in responsible key positions of the Government service.

Too much endorsement is now as embarrassing to a job hunter as not enough.

One man is knocking at the patronage door right now. He is endorsed by both his Senators, his state and county chairmen, a White House relative—and a gentleman from another state who gave many thousands to the campaign fund.

He wants a particular job in Washington.

Those in charge here have offered him a place in his home state. They can't overlook the endorsements but they're wondering why he brought so many and has been so set on a particular spot.

RECOGNITION

If those reputedly close to the President can be believed, Mr. Roosevelt is growing just a little distrustful of Russian recognition at the present moment.

They say he has about made up his mind to wait until Congress assemblies and let them shoulder the yoke with him.

This despite a noticeable decrease in anti-recognition propaganda.

NOTES

First signs of activity in the Republican camp looking to 1936 are beginning to show. Representative Wadsworth of N. Y. House Minority Leader Snell and Senate Minority Leader McNary all will be in the running for the nomination no doubt.

Ogden Mills still has hope but his friends don't share it generally. Three cases on the fall docket of the U. S. Supreme Court involve negroes' rights in the South.

One attacks the Louisiana "understanding" law which requires a person to understand the Constitution before being allowed to vote. The other two allege negroes can't get fair treatment in Virginia and Maryland because members of their race are barred from jury duty.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

FARMERS

The keenest New York observer says that the farm revolt has more serious implications than most people realize.

Confidential reports received here indicate that farmers in various parts of the country are sore as blazes at NRA because their living costs have gone up rapidly while the prices of the goods they sell have stood still or dropped.

They are getting the idea that the AAA program is a colossal flop and insist that nothing but actual inflation will do them any good.

It is predicted in high quarters that nothing Mr. Roosevelt can do will satisfy the farmers. They say inflation won't do it because it will tend to raise all prices and leave the relation between farm products and other goods where it is now.

They believe the President would be wise to recognize this situation before Congress meets again.

The trouble is that the farmer's interests are fundamentally different from those of either labor or industrial capital. He needs an absolute price rise to do him any good.

The increase in business turnover which helps city dwellers in good times doesn't mean a thing to him because the capacity to consume food and cotton clothing doesn't increase much with prosperity.

If a manufacturer improves he makes more money and presumably pays higher wages. If the farmer does the same thing he just raises a surplus that he can't get rid of. No wonder he never likes the dose prescribed for him.

If some bright genius would discover an industrial use for grains which would provide a market comparable to those for other industrial products it would solve the farmer's problem. Otherwise there doesn't seem to be any answer. Laboratory experiments now going on in the industrial alcohol field may pave the way for real progress along these lines.

POLITICS
The political aspects are important. No one can tell yet what the farm bloc will do in the next Congress but it's dollars to peanuts they will have plenty of ideas and be hard to hold in line. New York doubts that even Mr. Roosevelt's consummate political skill will keep them where he wants them—and that goes even if he takes inflationary measures meanwhile.

And that's where the despised Stock Market comes in. It may be childish but business and public psychology do react favorably to a buoyant market. Timely and judicious progress in the Wall Street market would strengthen Mr. Roosevelt's hand. And then there's labor—which has reason to be pleased with New Deal benefactions.

It seems odd to ponder an alliance of Wall Street, big business and labor in support of the President, with agriculture in opposition. But it is politically possible to please the first three at one time if the latter. There would be no cause to swoon with astonishment if the next Congressional picture is painted on those lines.

CUBA
We don't want to intervene in Cuba but by gum if we have to we don't intend to be alone.

New York hears confidentially that wires are being skillfully pulled to line up at least Argentina and Brazil for actual physical co-operation if intervention becomes necessary. That would be the nearest possible way to take the curse off "Yankee imperialism."

The reports indicate that we've done a wonderful selling job to date.

or money back

It's foolishness to think that soap or perfume can kill body odor, when a doctor can tell you the glands give off a full quart of perspiration every day of your life. There is only one deodorant guaranteed to stop body odor, safely, from the moment you apply it in the morning till evening at least—and that's PERSTIK. If it fails to do this, you get your money back.

A few strokes of PERSTIK under the arms (and on sanitary pad)—and your worry is over. Perstik is a pure white, greaseless stick, in a handsome black-and-white case. Costs but 50c and lasts for months. All reliable department stores and druggists sell genuine Perstik. Winner of Good Housekeeping's famous Seal of Approval. But make absolutely certain you get a PERSTIK. With the name right on the top. Don't be fooled into taking a fake, which may cause skin trouble. Tear this out.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

"The wagon has me curious," said Duncy. "I think one of us should peek into the window." "Go ahead," said Duncy. "If someone else will lend a hand, I'll boost you up. Why, you can stand right up on both our shoulders and then take a look inside."

"I'll help," said Scouty. Then the two stood close together. "That will do," said Duncy. "I can do it, now. Be sure and stand still."

"Gee, if you move, I know I'll drop, and I don't want to take a flop," said Duncy. She then peeked in the window and exclaimed, "Oh, what a thrill!"

"What is it? Tell us!" Duncy cried. "There must be something fine inside. Is this a bakery wagon that is filled up high with pies?"

"Or, maybe, it's a milk cart. Gee some milk would sure appeal to me," "Ha, ha," laughed Duncy. "Just you wait. I'll open up your eyes!"

"I don't think I will tell you, now. I'll let you try and find out how to open up the wagon. Then we'll have a lot of fun."

"I guess the wagon-back's a door that flops down and acts as a floor," "Why, sure! It's held by bolts," cried Scouty. "I can now see one."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Ponce de Leon should have looked in a drug store for the fountain of youth.

"Somebody get a nice, long stick. Give it to me and then I'll pick the bolt loose. That's the thing to do. It won't be hard at all!"

The stick was brought and Scouty tried his luck and then he loudly cried, "Look out! The door is loose now, kids, and it is going to fall!"

Then, sure enough, right down it fell. The Tinymites let out a yell. "Hurray! It is a pony, and a little dandy, too!"

The frisky pony then ran out and all the bunch heard Scouty shout, "I'm sure that we will have a lot of fun before we're through."

(The pony plays a trick on Duncy in the next story.)

4-H CLUBS TO BE FORMED AT WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 28.—Arrangements for the organization of two 4-H clubs in the Hoover Mexican school have been made. Eric Eastman, assistant farm advisor of Orange county, is in charge of 4-H work in the county.

A number of projects are planned for the school under the supervision of Dr. Cecil D. Hardesty and Prof. Nevil Otis, principal of the school, in cooperation with the newly organized Hoover Parent-Teacher association.

The first projects to be taken up are gardening and sewing. Mr. Otis having between 40 and 50 pupils above the age of 10 who will be interested in the gardening while Mrs. Ethel Paulk of the faculty will have a sewing class of 30 girls who will have regular classes.

Plots of ground 10 by 15 feet in the southwest section of the school grounds were allotted Wednesday to the pupils. Vegetables will be grown first with plans for beautifying the grounds with flower beds and shrubbery coming up later.

Anyone having tools which might be used in the gardens are asked to donate them and shrubs and flower donations will also be acceptable. Any clothing which might be remodeled may be left at the school for the P.-T. A., whose members will prepare them for use by school children.

Mr. Otis has issued an invitation to everyone in the district to visit Hoover school at any time to see class work in session. The Friday morning assemblies, which are open at 9 o'clock also are open to the public. Anyone who will sing, give musical numbers or recite on these programs is invited to see Mr. Otis.

It is planned to have the children of the school put on plays for the benefit of their parents. A harmonica band with 25 boys and girls, is now rehearsing.

H. B. Board Places Ban On Apiaries

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 28.—The city council in session last night passed an ordinance preventing the keeping of apiaries in the city limits. More than one hive of bees was declared an apiary. The ordinance drawn by City Attorney Ray Overacker at the request of the council fixes a maximum penalty of a $50 fine for each day the apiary is maintained after the ordinance goes into effect. It was passed on first reading and will be adopted at the next meeting of the council when it goes into effect immediately as an emergency ordinance.

Produce merchants claim their customers are bothered by the bees. Leonard Moody, proprietor of the East Side market on Frankfort street, finally appeared before the council and asked for a bee ordinance limiting the number of bees that may be kept in the city. The ordinance provides that the bees must be properly kept in hives.

U. S. WEBB CRITICIZES BEACH CHAMBER FOR RESOLUTION ON STATE'S TIDELANDS OIL SUIT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 28.—The special committee of the chamber of commerce composed of C. P. Patton, D. R. Wight and Ray Overacker, city attorney, has received a scathing answer from Attorney General U. S. Webb to the resolution the chamber had adopted and which condemned the action of the attorney general and other state officials for bringing suit against oil operators here. In his answer Attorney General Webb says that the oil operators engaged in an illegitimate industry and that the taking of oil from the tidelands might very properly be called by a stronger name. He declared that the statements contained in the resolution are untrue and that the chamber is condoning the illegitimate operation of oil wells and the taking of oil from state owned lands. The attorney general says the people of the state will praise him for the law suit and that he cannot believe that there are as many men thrown out of employment as stated in the resolution. He says he will also be sustained by the president and nation for bringing the law suit and that the federal government may join with him in putting a stop to oil drilling here, intimating that the navy department may declare the oil under the ocean here to be a naval reserve. The chamber of commerce committee will make a reply in a few days to Webb's letter.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUANITA SELIM is murdered at SPRAGUE is also murdered when he disappears mysteriously from a bridge party. A TEASE SPRAGUE and Nita are partners in some racket in New York and Sprague is a "back alley" Sprague, they theorize, fearing he is followed, tries to escape from the Miles' house through the trophy room window but is shot.

A telegram from New York saying that "SWALLOWTAIL SAMMY" SAGUE had been seen often with Nita, was "taken for a ride" soon after Nita's departure, seems to confirm the DUDEE theory. Nita and Sprague were blackmailing someone, who he thinks may be FLORE MILES. His theory is that Flora has already told him. She shoots him, with gun and silencer she has stolen from JUDGE MARSHALL, another possible suspect, and hides the gun on a secret shelf in the guest closet. Returning to destroy the note, she finds it is from Sprague, and faints with horror at her unnecessary crime.

CLIVE HAMMOND AND POLLY BEALE, who married suddenly after Sprague's death, are also partners in the racket. DUNDIE asks PENNY CRAIN, the district attorney's secretary, if Miles loves Flora enough to leave her, and she laughs heartily.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XL
"What are you laughing at?" Dundee demanded indignantly, but the sustained ringing of the telephone bell checked Penny CRAIN's mirthful laughter. "My Chicago call....Hello....Yes, this is Dundee....All right, but make it snappy, won't you?...Hello, Mr. Sanderson! How is your mother?...That's fine! I certainly hope—Yes, the inquest is slated for tomorrow morning, but there's no use your leaving your mother to come back for it....Yes, sir, one important new development. Can you hear me plainly?...Then hold the line a moment, please!"

With the receiver still at his ear, Dundee fumbled in his pocket for a folded sheet of paper. "No, operator! We're not through! Please keep off the line....Listen, chief!" he addressed the district attorney at the other end of the long distance wire. "This is a telegram Captain Strawn received this afternoon from the city editor of The New York Evening Press....Can you hear me?...All right! And he read slowly, repeating when necessary."

When he had finished reading the telegram, he listened for a long minute, but not with so much concentration that he could not grin at Penny's wide-eyed amazement and joy. "That's what I think, sir!" he cried jubilantly. "I'd like to take the five o'clock train for New York and work on the case from there and tell me actually get our teeth into something....Thanks a lot, and my best wishes for your mother."

"Why didn't you tell me about this 'Swallowtail Sammy'?" Penny demanded indignantly. "Tormont me with your silly theory about poor Flora and Tracey, when all the time you knew the case was practically solved...."

"I'm afraid I gave the district attorney a slightly false impression," Dundee interrupted, but there was no remorse in his shining blue eyes.

"Oh, yes! But she'd have been in love with anyone who wanted to marry her, and the funny thing is that, with the exception of Peter and Lois, they are the happiest married couple I have ever known....You see, Tracey has never got over being flattered that so pretty and passionate a girl as Flora wanted him....And that's why I laughed!"

Penny laughed again, white teeth and brown eyes gleaming. "It was laughing at something else. It suddenly occurred to me, while you were spinning your foolish theory, how flattered Tracey would have been if Flora had confessed to him Saturday night that she had killed Nita because she was jealous!"

"Which was not my theory, if you remember!" Dundee retorted. "But why is the idea so amusing? Deep in his heart, I suppose any man would really be a bit flattered if his wife loved him enough to be that jealous."

"You don't know Tracey Miles as well as I do," Penny assured him, her eyes still mirthful. "He's really a dear, in spite of being a dreadful bore most of the time, but the truth is, Tracey hasn't an atom of sex appeal, and he must realize it....Of course we girls have all pampered his poor little ego by pretending to be crazy about him and terribly envious that it was Flora who got him—"

"But Flora Hackett did marry him," Dundee interrupted. "She must have been a beautiful girl, and she was certainly rich enough to get any man she wanted—"

"You would think so, wouldn't you?" Penny agreed, her tongue loosened by relief. "I was only 12 when Flora Hackett made her debut, but a 12-year-old has big ears and keen eyes. It is true that Flora was beautiful and rich, but—well, there was something queer about her. She was simply crazy to get married, and if a man danced with her as many as three times in an evening she literally seized upon him and tried to drag him to the altar....Her eagerness and her intensity recalled every man who was in the least attracted to her, and I think she was beginning to be frightened to death that she wouldn't get married at all when Tracey came to Hamilton to work in her father's business."

"She began to rush him—there's no other word for it—and none of the other girls minded a bit, because, without Flora, a bit of wallflower. They became engaged almost right away, but didn't get married for six months—I suppose old Mr. Hackett made Flora wait. All the girls were freely prophesying that even Tracey, flattered by her passion for him, as he so evidently was, would get tired of it, but he didn't, and there were three marriages that June."

"Three?" Dundee repeated, rather absently, for his interest was waning.

"Yes, Lois Morrow and Peter Duval, Johnny Drake and Carolyn Swann, and Tracey and Flora," Penny answered. "Although I was 13 by then, and really too old for the role, I had the fun of being flower girl for Lois and Flora both."

"Do you think Flora was really in love with Tracey?" Dundee asked curiously.

"Oh, yes! But she'd have been in love with anyone who wanted to marry her, and the funny thing is that, with the exception of Peter and Lois, they are the happiest married couple I have ever known....You see, Tracey has never got over being flattered that so pretty and passionate a girl as Flora wanted him....And that's why I laughed!"

"Tracey, with that deep-rooted inferiority complex of his, would have been so flattered by Flora's love that he killed Nita out of jealousy that he would have forgotten her on the spot. On the other hand, she went on, 'If Flora had told him that Nita had documented proofs of some frightful scandal against her, can't you see how violently Tracey would have reacted against her?...Oh, no! Tracey would not have taken the trouble to murder Sprague, when Sprague popped up for more blackmail!'"

"Perhaps he might have, if the scandal dated back before the marriage," Dundee argued. "Let's suppose Sprague did pop up, and Flora turned him over to Tracey. When Sprague appeared apparently uninvited last night, Flora must have been on pins and needles, trying to make Tracey treat him decently and hoping against hope that Tracey would simply pay the blackmail all the blackmail he was demanding—"

"Which is exactly what Tracey would have done, instead of taking the awful risk of murdering him in his own home," Penny cut in spiritedly. "Besides, Tracey wasn't gone from the porch long enough to go outside, signal to Sprague in the trophy room, shoot him when Sprague raised the screen, and then hide the gun. I told you Tracey was gone about a minute when he went to see if Sprague's hat and stick were gone from the closet."

"Did Tracey and Flora both step outside to see their guests into their cars?" Dundee asked suddenly.

"Tracey did," Penny answered. "Flora told us all good night in the living room, then ran upstairs to see if Betty was still asleep.... But remember we didn't leave until midnight, and Dr. Price says Sprague was killed between nine and 11 last night."

"Dr. Price would be the first to grant a leeway of an hour, one way or another," Dundee told her. "Of course, if Tracey did kill him, he let Flora believe that he had given Sprague the blackmail money when he was demanding. For it is inconceivable that a woman of Flora Miles' hysterical temperament could have slept—even with two sleeping tablets—knowing that a corpse was in the house."

"Oh, I'm sick of your silly theorizing!" Penny told him with vehement scorn. "Listen here, Bonnie Dundee! You probably laugh at woman's intuition, but take it from me—you're on the wrong track!"

"Oh, I'm not so wedded to that particular theory!" Dundee laughed. "I can spin you exactly six more just as convincing—"

"And I shan't listen! You'd better dash home and pack your bag."

BYRON F. QUINCY SPEAKS TONIGHT

Tonight Byron F. Quincy, instructor in machine shop and forge work in the Adult Education Department of the Santa Ana City Schools will be the speaker on the program sponsored by the Adult Education Department. The program will be broadcast at 8:30 p. m. Quincy will talk on the courses offered in his department, explaining them in detail.

These broadcasts by the Adult Education department are under direction of Mrs. Golden Weston, director and principal of the evening school, and are scheduled for each day except Saturday and Sunday.

JERRY HALL WILL GO BACK ON AIR

Jerry Hall, Santa Ana's "Musical Merchant" will be on the air tonight over KREG with a 15-minute broadcast of delightful ballads. He has been missed from his regular spot on the station's program because of illness and other unavoidable circumstances but is ready to resume his popular program.

Jerry will go on the air tonight at 7:15 o'clock and will include in his program several songs that are his own composition. As usual he will conduct and announce his own program.

KREG NOTES

Two Irish songs will comprise half the program tonight by Ned Lewis and Hal McCormack tomorrow morning, 11 o'clock on KREG. "A Little Bit of Heaven," by Ernest R. Ball and "Kathleen Mavourneen," by F. N. Crouch and the familiar Irish songs, and Ned will sing two masterpieces of song composition: "Trees," by Kilmer and Rasbach, and "Duna," by Marjorie Pickthall.

The "old maestro," Ben Bernie and His orchestra, and Clyde McCoy and His orchestra will provide musical tempos of the latest releases during "Tempos" tonight at 6:15. KREG's "These Brand New Numbers" include "Wah Wab Lament," another revision of "Nobody's Sweetheart," "Ain't That Marvelous," and the novelty number "The Duke is on a Bat Again."

The Spanish program tonight, starting at 9 o'clock on KREG under the direction of Sergio Laurent, will continue until 10:30 and will feature some surprise talent from Los Angeles, according to the director. Thursday night broadcasts in Spanish from the local station are always of more than usual interest and frequently bring nationally known Mexican artists to the microphone.

Children's diets and the "how" and "why" of the digestive system will be the topic of a health talk to be given by Joseph Ames Hennessey, under the auspices of the Protective Diet League of California, at 10 a. m., tomorrow, KREG.

Tom Westwood, conducting the "Health and Happiness" broadcast, daily except Saturday and Sunday at 9 a. m. on KREG is reading poems and stories sent to him by Orange county listeners. These favorite readings are, in this manner, made available for hundreds of other people to enjoy them at the same time. Something like "eating the apple and keeping it too."

RADIO FEATURES

"Give Me That Old Time Religion," a melody typical of the deep South, will open the program of unusual compositions to be offered by Willard Robinson and his Deep River orchestra, at 7 tonight, over the Columbia network including KHL. "Tishimingo Blues" and "Lay Rhapsody," subsequent numbers on the presentation, carry out the mood set in the opening selection.

Captain Henry's Maxwell House Show Boat has completed its first full year cruise over National Broadcasting company networks and the crew is going to celebrate the anniversary with a gala party and all-request program at the broadcast over a coast-to-coast NBC network including KFI at 6 tonight.

With Alfred Hertz, one of the world's greatest interpreters of Wagnerian music, in the conductor's stand, the Standard Symphony Orchestra will play "Siegfried's Rhine Journey" from the German master's opera, "The Twilight of the Gods," during the one-hour concert to be broadcast over an NBC network including KFI, beginning at 8:15 tonight. The program will be heard 15 minutes later than formerly.

A DILEMMA PRESENTED BY MR. FORD

Ford has closed his plant at Chester, Pa. This was done in response to a request from a national mediator on behalf of his men who desired to present the case of the employee to Mr. Ford. The N. R. A. guarantees, or is supposed to guarantee, the principle of collective bargaining, if it is desired by the men.

It has been supposed that there were provisions in the law that could be brought to bear to enforce the N. R. A. upon the employer and the employee. But there is no provision in the law that compels any man to work or compels any employer to run his plant. In the last analysis, therefore, any individual employee or any employer, whether it be corporation or individual, can refuse to operate under the N. R. A. and there is no possible redress in the law. The only possible manner under the law that the N. R. A. can operate is that business shall be conducted, if it is conducted, according to the rules laid down in the N. R. A. code. But with the power finally resting with the employer to close down entirely what benefit it is, in the end, to society?

This demonstrates most completely the futility of the N. R. A., unless it is empowered to go further than the provisions of the act now permit it to go. If General Johnson had the power to say to Mr. Ford in reply: "While you own this plant yet the right and interest of the public in it and society's welfare, is paramount to your own personal ownership and if you don't want to run it and don't need it we will have to run it in some way without you because the men need it and society and the world need it. It is very probable that Mr. Ford would not have taken this action in the face of that power."

This is the most serious matter that has yet come up. It is a frank and plain challenge to the administration and what will Mr. Roosevelt do about it? More than this, Mr. Ford says he is going back to forty hours a week, still claiming, however, to work under the operation of the code by purposing to shut down for a long period later on. He says that under thirty-two hours a week the men are not making a living wage; they are making only sixteen dollars a week. We do not understand this. We thought that under the code when the reduction of hours was to be made that the weekly wage was not to be reduced. If that be true, it must have been that these men were receiving but sixteen dollars a week before, or else Mr. Ford was not complying with the provisions of the code to begin with. We agree with Mr. Ford that sixteen dollars a week in a city like Detroit is far from a living wage and for heads of families it is extremely pitiful. But raising it to four hours more, at the same rate he seems to be paying for thirty-two hours, would not advance it into the realm of a living wage for a family. It would be only eighteen dollars a week in that case.

As we recall it was given out some time ago that the minimum Ford was paying was four dollars a day which was later raised to $4.80. Very evidently advantage was taken of the hour rate and the minimum amount provided in the code in the employment of any additional help in order for the figures of sixteen dollars to be reached.

All of this is, of course, important but the really significant thing is that the owner of the plant stands supreme. Mr. Ford can do the work in his Detroit plant that is necessary without using his Chester plant and it may be possible that if other plants in turn misbehave he will take the work to plants where there is no trouble. Society and the worker and the government itself are really helpless. Ownership is supreme. "Rugged individualism," in spite of Mr. Roosevelt is here in really significant numbers.

NEW DEPARTURE IN GERMAN RELIGION

According to a dispatch from Dresden, Germany, the Evangelical Council of the Protestant church voted to omit the Hallelujah and the Amen in the prayers and the hymns of the Church because they are of Jewish origin. This is in accord with the orders of the Hitler government which has become dominant in the councils of the church.

It used to be said of the Kaiser that he had never read his Bible beyond the First Book of Kings in the Old Testament. The warlike character of that portion of the Bible appealed to him more than did the teachings of love and neighborliness of the New Testament. The dispatch from Dresden would seem to indicate that the German nation has moved forward were it not for the fact that we are well aware of the motive that lies behind the reported change.

The modernist has moved on beyond the authority of the Old Testament in recent years. To him the higher teachings of the New Testament have supplanted the laws and the national standards of the Old Testament. But that is not the motive that lies behind the action of the Evangelical church in Germany. Everything that pays honor to the Jew must be struck out from German life. Even Jesus must be divorced from Judaism in order to conform to this drastic change of attitude.

We suspect that reports from Germany have been much exaggerated, but we cannot but give credence to many of the unfavorable reports reaching us in view of the exile of such scholars as Einstein, and the total extermination of every vestige of Jewish scholarship associated with Germany in the past. To us the surrender of the Church of a heritage from the ages is most humiliating. If the State is to dictate in such small matters as the Hallelujahs and the Amens, what is to become of German Christianity which has given to the world Luther, Melancthon, Tauler, and many others only a little less famous? How can leadership in religion develop in chains?

It is a sad spectacle for the world. We believe it can only be temporary. This hysteria will pass when Germany's bitter crisis passes. We cannot forget the hysteria of the war and the period following it when the Church here surrendered its functions and bowed before the altar of Mars in obedience to its behests. There is a higher law than the law of a rampant nationalism.

SCORE ONE FOR THE C. C. C.

It is reported that the Civilian Conservation Corps saved a $15,000,000 damage loss in its successful fighting of fires in Oregon recently. The young men engaged in the work have become heroes to the people of the region.

Score this to the credit of President Roosevelt's forestry work. Incidentally, a dispatch to a city newspaper from that region stated that "Gentile showers had stayed the spread of the forest fires in Oregon." A clipping should be sent to Mr. Hitler in Germany. It might give him encouragement for further ostracizing the Jews.

More and more, the C. C. C. is justifying itself to a remarkable degree. Not only has it taken thousands of young men from the streets and out of numerous temptations that always beset the idle, but it is actually adding to the nation's wealth and beauty by developing and beautifying great wastes of forest.

"YOU CAN'T KEEP A GOOD MAN DOWN"

There is proof that you can't keep a good man down in the news of the convict who embezzled $800 from fellow prisoners. The prison authorities must have had every confidence in his ability to "carry on," to place him in the position they did, which enabled him to continue his chosen work.

Christian Science Monitor

With the entry of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation into the political arena in British Columbia, Canada sees the first serious bid by a socialistic group for political power. At the same time the attention of the world is drawn to this new demonstration of the growing influence of the co-operative movement.

Prior to the formation of the present National Government and the collapse of labor's dominance the British House of Commons saw some of its seats occupied by members of the Co-operative Party. But it was—and is—in the economic field that the consumers' co-operative movement has made its most determined bid. Even in America, the individual storekeeper complains of the competition of the chain store, so in England the shopkeeper points at the co-operative store as threatening his very existence. The co-operative stores, returning all gains to their consumer members, have no profits to be taxed. Thus the co-operative movement sweeps on, gathering economic impetus and power.

In Canada, however, the co-operative movement has gone militantly political. Under the leadership of Mr. J. S. Woodswordth it has rallied to its banner scattered groups of Farmer-Laborites. The result is a formidable political party. Liberals and Conservatives alike admit its potentialities. The party, while not expected to elect a large group to the provincial legislature, will undoubtedly poll a formidable vote.

The platform of the party—socialization of finance and heavy industry—is not an issue in a provincial election, since no such plan could be approached by any but the Dominion Government. But this gathering of strength in British Columbia is only a prelude to a determined bid for power in the next general elections. Thus, the results of this latest Columbia's elections may show whether this latest political wind is destined to become a steady trade wind or but a fitful puff from the mountains of the Left.

Waste in Education

Oakland Tribune

President Sproul of the University of California has revived a discussion of education and the individual.

Theoretically there is an agreement, especially on the part of taxpayers, that there is a waste in offering higher education to persons for whom by nature it is not intended. It costs the same to put through college the one who gets nothing there as it does to develop talent and promote genius.

If there are those who go to college because it is "the thing to do," for social reasons, or because their ambitions are ahead of their talents, the State must pay the bill. It pays for the rich and the poor and offers no complaint save for this one that, sometimes, the money is thrown away.

Practically, the difficulties in determining which ones deserve the opportunities and which ones do not, are many. There are individuals who, after two unpromising years in college, suddenly awaken to something approaching mental brilliance and proceed to justify the expense and care expended. Is there a way to say one man's son may attend and another man's may not, without putting up bars which might work against the really deserving? The problem is large and there is need for working it out unless it be assumed that no matter what a person's mental qualifications are he is benefited by exposure to college halls and life.

Surplus Lemons Are Not Destroyed in California

San Bernardino Sun

There is an economic lesson in the story of California's surplus lemons. Five of every six lemons grown in California are marketed. The sixth represents surplus. In order to maintain a fair price for the rest, the sixth is withheld. Formerly these surplus lemons, which make a very large total, were simply dumped to rot or dry up. Much good fruit went to waste.

Today the surplus lemons are converted into profitable byproducts. They are made into pectin, juice products and oil, citric acid and other commercially useful materials. The pectins are used in making jams and jellies. The flavoring is used in bakery goods, candies and extracts. Citric acid is used in making effervescent salts. One-sixth of the total California production since 1915, amounting to 500,000 tons of surplus fruit, had yielded, up to Oct. 31, 1932, products worth more than $5,000,000. It is a reasonable solution of the problem of a perishable annual surplus to turn it into profitable and preservable byproducts. Outright destruction is justified only as a temporary measure in an emergency.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE NE'ER DO WELL

He'll never be contented
Till some one has invented
A way to shirk
Unpleasant work,
And still be clothed and fed;
For toil is not intriguing,
In fact it's most fatiguing;
He thinks that he
By right should be
Well clothed and housed and fed.

He likes to watch his neighbors
Engaged in toilsome labor,
The while he lies
Beneath the skies
Among the scented flowers
He takes but small enjoyment
In any real employment;
To him it seems,
The while he dreams,
A wanton waste of hours.

He has the deepest pity
For folks in town and city
Who earn their bread
And move ahead
The while the day goes by.
He grows more lean and seedy
And woebegone and needy
From year to year,
And, though it's queer,
He always wonders why.

PARAGRAPHS

Honesty is also the best foreign policy. Education pays. You can feel superior to your boss who quit at the 5th grade.

Shortening hours won't mean more leisure for some people, but just the same leisure in a different place.

People aren't profiteering. It just seems that way because any profit looks wrong when you are used to deficits.

But in the old days people got half insurance from insurance companies instead of Congress.

Wouldn't it be funny if wild asses also considered themselves superior to all other races.

All things are relative, but you don't realize how true that is until you hear Queen Mary's new shoe-top skirts called "short."

I had a argewment almost ending in a fite wawking home from school with Shorty Judge this afternoon, and tonite before supper I was looking out the back window of our living room waiting for Nora to ring the dinner bell and pop was looking at the financial page in the evening paper and shaking his head, and all of a sudden somebody yelled up at me from down in the alley.

Being Shorty Judge, saying, "What's you doing up there, funny face?" and I called down, "I'm looking at a poor fish of a midgit down in the alley, what's you doing down there, shrimp?"

Being a good anser, and Shorty yelled up, "I'm looking at a goolge eye rumsteak up there in the window, and I yelled down, Then you must be blind in one eye and cant see out of the other, because all little flattened down hamburger stakes are blind in one eye and cant see out of the other."

Meeting he was one, and he yelled up, "Well you wouldn't know anyways, because no lob sided dishrags know anything about anything."

Meaning I was one, and I yelled down, "O well what's a use of tawking to a parrit toed knock kneed hunk of putty that's too mud to even tawk to himself? No use, that's what's a use, I yelled down."

What's a diffrents, you're crazy anyways, Shorty yelled up, and I yelled down, "If I'm crazy you're so bughouse you couldn't even get admitted to a insane asylum because you haven't got branes enough to pas the examination."

Wich just then Nora rang the dinner bell for supper and pop said, Dishonors are even, how about calling it a day and taking a little nurishment?"

Wich I did, having a extery harty appetite from all that yelling.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE ROOSEVELTIAN REVOLUTION

One outstanding impression forces itself upon me as I read the day-to-day reactions of the rank and file of business men, bankers and industrialists to the Roosevelt drive for national recovery. And that is that the average business man does not yet fully realize that Mr. Roosevelt, whether he is doing it wisely at every point or not, is attempting something more than a conventional return to business normalcy and that this attempt is something that should be fostered rather than feared by business men.

Business generally has been surprisingly cooperative in moves that would have been hailed and hated as the reddest of red bolshevism a decade ago. Much of this right-about-face upon the part of erstwhile conservative business men has been a fear reaction. It would be better, they thought or maybe only felt, to submit to control by politicians than to suffer chaos at the hands of forces over which they had failed to establish effective control.

But as the NRA moves out of the stage of proposals into the stage of application a thousand and one difficulties appear and the old business dislike of political intervention in economic affairs again raises its head.

I am far from willing to see the national future handed over in blind faith to the coterie of professors who are in the presidential confidence, although I am myself a schoolman and should have pride in my craft. Doctrinaires who have spent their lives in the world of theory might, if the reins of power were wholly in their hands, prove quite as inadequate guides for the national destiny as the ultra-practical business men who landed us in disaster.

But this we know: The situation calls for something more than the conventional re-priming of the prosperity pump. It calls for a careful and comprehensive rethinking of our whole economic organization in the light of the new economic situation that has grown up with the development of high-powered machine industry.

Long before even the clouds of collapse were visibly in the sky, economic America had come to a historic turn in the road. It was clear to all who cared to face facts that unless our economic policies could create with assurance a population of prosperous customers our industrial system would back-fire and come to a standstill. A good many of our really "big" business men saw this, and some of our basic industries were making real headway towards higher wages, shorter hours, smaller profits per article, and other policies that gave more money and more leisure to their army of workers who, in turn, became good customers. But the leaders and the industries that did this were—taking the nation as a whole—in the minority.

If this new capitalism had covered the whole business and industrial scene there would have been no collapse. There was no choice, as I said the other day. Political leadership had to step into the picture and try to make epidemic the new industrial policies that had been exceptional. The old individualism simply was not functioning. It called itself individualistic, but it left the individual in the lurch. And the test of individualism is what it does to and for the individuals who make up our population.

Not in the sense of a seizure of power or an iron-fisted dictatorship, but in the sense of an intelligent readjustment of an old order to new conditions, it was and is imperative that a fundamental revolution in policy and organization take place. Only so can the business system be saved and the values of a real individualism preserved for our children. At least Mr. Roosevelt seems to realize that this is imperative. And that's something!

Tomorrow I shall try to suggest the heart of this problem upon which we must focus our best thought and bravest action. Copyright, 1933, McClure Newspaper Syn.

FATHER'S DAY

A day with father once a week by right belongs to every child. Mother is with him every day. Father usually sees him only once in a while on days off and then only at table, or in passing. He has no time to get acquainted with his child and even worse than that the child has no chance to get acquainted with his own father.

Fathers think that little children can not get on away from their mothers. There is no reason for this. The idea has come out of daily practice. Mothers attend to the little children and fathers do something else. There is very little that mothers do for small children that fathers cannot do as well if they care to try. They don't want to be bothered and any excuse is a good excuse so long as it relieves them from the distress of learning how to live with a youngling.

That is where fathers miss a lot. And of course, the children too. They need both parents. Two helpful friends are twice as good as one, and then some. A day with father is a delightful treat.

Its details are fixed firmly in memory, detailed later to mother and friends with a pride that shows how deep the experience has gone and how far into the spirit of the child it has reached. "My father took me—"

"He's too young yet. When he is older I'll begin taking him along." That is an expectation never realized. By the time father gets around to taking him along son has found his own way about, made his own friends, chosen his own interests. He cannot, if he would, drop them and become interested in father's friends and father's interests. The time for that has gone by.

A short talk holding on to father's finger is an excursion. That walk will lengthen, the journey will carry father and son further and further afield. On the way they will gather mutual friends and find tastes that agree and adventures that nourish. Between them will grow an understanding that cannot be put into words. A look, a word, a gesture hints at its presence. The affectionate glance conveys the feeling. Father and son know each other and the most worthwhile of all human relationships, the affection of child for a parent, has been established in their hearts.
